TO THE INHABITANTS OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

APPEAL in behalf of the Fund for the Relief of Distress in the Manufacturing Districts of the United Kingdom, occasioned by the American Civil War.

The committee appointed to promote the collection of money for the relief of distress in the cotton manufacturing districts earnestly solicit the attention of their fellow-colonists.

It is with gratification they record the sum already confided to their care. Five thousand pounds are now on the way to London, collected within a week, from persons of every class and condition. A movement so prompt justifies the belief that although a long trial awaits our suffering fellow-countrymen, it will be sooner exhausted than your sympathy and resources.

The reality of the distress is shown in the facts accumulated by the Press down to the latest date. The hundreds of thousands already pauperised or impoverished by the suspension of the cotton trade, form a part only of much larger masses threatened by this disaster; and these its long continuance must engulph.

The most favourable views of the future give no hope that the supply of cotton and the revival of trade will take place for a long time to come. Every day adds to the number of the sufferers, and advances towards the season when their sufferings will be more intense; while every day takes from others the power to succour.

It is shown that the savings of years have been exhausted—that decent operatives have been compelled to part with their ornaments, their books, their clothing, their cherished household goods—and that, after bravely battling with poverty, they have been obliged with unutterable grief, to abandon the noble independence of the British artizan, and to take their places beside habitual mendicants and paupers.

Next to the greatness of the distress, we commend to your consideration the attitude of the sufferers. Witnesses of all ranks have attested the calm resignation, the sober sense, and manly fortitude of the factory people. They have borne the hardest of trials in silence, while their faded garments and wasted looks have told their sorrows. We recognise the growing intelligence and moral feeling of the working classes in this submission to inevitable affliction, and we believe that those who would have thought it a duty to give relief in any circumstances, will find in the patience of the sufferers a still more persuasive motive to compassion.

The distress of the operative class, which proceeds from no fault of their own, might perhaps have been shortened by an interference with the belligerent powers. But the principle of non-intervention—both equitable and pacific—has forbidden England to mingle in the strife which afflicts a friendly nation. The distressed classes have not asked for the violation of this principle, but by their passive courage, enabled their Government to maintain a neutrality required by the interests of the empire, and the liberties of the world. Assenting to this great principle as of priceless value, we are bound with heart and hand to uphold those who suffer for it, and to share those trials which may lead to its final and universal triumph.

We believe that from this heavy calamity important effects will issue—that great social changes will be wrought in the condition of the slave; that a perilous dependence on a single nation for cotton will be diminished, and that the return of a similar scarcity under circumstances still less favourable will be prevented.

The promotion of the growth of cotton within the Australian colonies is one result which may be well anticipated from the suspension of the American supply. We shall at a time not remote see plantations cultivated by willing hands, and our cotton among our most extensive exports. At the same moment that a cry of distress arrives in Australia, caused by the failure of the American staple, we learn that the cotton of this colony is found to be absolutely the finest in the world.

The marvellous natural wealth of this country, the prevalence of comfort among all classes, and the boundless prospects unfolded to enterprise and industry, are considerations which may well stimulate our benevolence. But the woes of our fellow-countrymen appeal to our warmest affections. To be told that their industry is stopped—that their savings are exhausted—that a long dreary hopeless winter awaits them, is to awaken the most anxious solicitude and exertions. They are our fellow subjects, our kindred, and our brethren. To refuse our aid would be unchristian, unhuman, and criminal.

We have another occasion to manifest our unity as one great people; members of a glorious empire, subjects of a noble Queen—great even in adversity, and majestic in sorrow. England will recognise a kindred voice in the sympathy and succour we send; she will feel the worth of that moral tie which binds her children in one common relation, and we shall offer the best evidence to the world that neither time nor distance can render us insensible to the claims of our country.

Influenced by such considerations, which appeal with a like force to the understanding and the heart, we doubt not you will enable us to maintain the highest rank among the Australian colonies in the generous rivalry of fraternal sympathy and bounty.

The uprising of the colony at the cry of distress is the noblest spectacle it can offer. By local co-operation, a much larger sum than has been contributed may be forwarded by the next mail without any sensible decrease of enjoyments bestowed on us by Providence with a liberal hand.

Signed on behalf of committee,

J. OATLEY, Mayor, Chairman.

CHARLES KEMP, W. HANSON, } Honorary Secretaries.

"Sydney, 10th July, 1862.

"Sir,—I have the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Government, with the arrival, to-day, of this vessel, having been employed on the survey of the coast, since the 4th ultimo, between Sugar Loaf Point and Port Macquarie.

AUCTION SALES of Household Furniture, Effects, Works of Art, Plate, Oil Paintings, Pictures, &c., conducted by JOHN G. COHEN.

 Inventories taken at the shortest notice.

Families leaving the colony and others, disposing of their household furniture, effects, &c., are respectfully informed that JOHN G. COHEN continues to undertake sales by auction of such property in all cases where the same is not intended for removal from the premises, and which has formed a portion of his general and extensive business of an auctioneer for more than twenty-one years in this colony.

Liberal advances made in anticipation of proceeds being realised, in all cases when so required, without incurring extra expense to his constituents, who have likewise the advantage of remaining in their houses up to the time of sale—a facility frequently of great moment to families.

Principals have only to give general instructions in such cases where they do not wish to be on the spot, or are unavoidably absent. Sales effected by private contract when so directed; in either case, every care will be devoted that energy and practical experience can accomplish, to obtain the highest prices for the benefit of his clients.

Referring back to his long and varied experience, combined with a general knowledge of this particular branch of business, JOHN G. COHEN begs to assure those who may honour him with their confidence, that he will continue to devote the same unremitting zeal for the benefit of his constituents that has hitherto marked his career, and which, in connection with his moderate charges, have produced such favourable results, and given general satisfaction to his numerous patrons.

Bank Auction Rooms, 336, George-street.

TO GRAZIERS, AUCTIONEERS, and others having STOCK for SALE.—To meet a want very generally felt in the realization of Fat and other Stock, the undersigned has, at considerable expense, recently built yards at Petersham, Parramatta Road, adjoining the lands of James Norton, Esq., within a few minutes walk of the railway station, for the SALE of CATTLE, SHEEP, and HORSES. These yards are constructed on the same principle as the cattle market in Melbourne, and being situated at a convenient distance from the public slaughter-houses, and close to the road leading thereto, in connection with which they are mainly intended to be used, the owners of cattle and sheep will be assured of obtaining the market prices, and the retail butchers will have the opportunity of buying live stock in small lots, to the extent of their requirements, instead of depending on large purchasers, as heretofore. Such is the course pursued in Melbourne, where it has been found advantageous and convenient alike to the owners of stock and the retail butchers, both of whom will be equally benefited by the adoption of the same practice here; and the slaughter-houses, which have been erected at an enormous cost for the use of the public, will be brought into general requisition, instead of being, as at present, only partially used.

The Yards are named the "Victoria Cattle Market," and will be opened on the 14th instant. The scale of charges will be posted up at the Yards for the information and convenience of customers. Application for the use of the yards for the sale of cattle or other stock, to be made to Mr. DENNIS LANNE, on the premises; or to the undersigned.

ARMY and NAVY HAIR DYE.—A fresh supply of this matchless dye. HOBSON and WHITING.

THE VOLUNTEER CLOTHING HALL.—
Air, "A rose tree in full bearing."
Strolling down George-street t'other day,
I met two friends, of stature low.
They looked so changed, I really thought
That the late rains had made them grow.
Whatever have you done? said I,
You're so genteel, so smart and tall,
Why, nothing, but bought our winter suits
At Phillip's Volunteer Clothing Hall.

Hearing where they so well had fared,
I bought a suit, so gay and fine
That every one I met declared,
There were no clothes in town like mine.
So all who wish to improve their shape,
And look first-rate, whether great or small,
Must be quick, and their winter garments buy,
At Phillip's Volunteer Clothing Hall.

Then as for tents, he has them in galore
And makes up every size and form,
Of ponchos, blankets, and capes, too, in store,
To defend and shelter you from the storm.
As to price, you're sure not to disagree,
So delay not, but quickly give him a call,
And you'll never after purchase a suit
Except at the Volunteer Clothing Hall.

The Sydney Insurance Company issues policies for protection against fire, for sums ranging from £10 to £10,000. The subscribed capital is £250,000, with unlimited liability of a large and wealthy colonial proprietary. The rates of insurance range from 3s. per cent. to 6s. 6d. per cent., for brick or stone dwellings, and from 4s. 6d. to 12s. 6d. per cent. for brick or stone shops, stores, and places of business. Wooden buildings are charged special rates. Losses promptly settled. £27,000 has been paid by this Company for fire losses within the past five years. Small accidents, from fires in dwellings or shops, are recognised as claims, and equitably settled. This being a colonial institution, the whole of the profits are retained in the colony, instead of being transmitted to England.

Further information can be obtained, and applications will be filled up without any expense to the applicant, at the Offices, corner of Pitt and Hunter streets, Sydney.

JOHN BAPTIST, in returning thanks to the public generally of New South Wales and the neighbouring colonies for past favours, offers for sale, this season, the most extensive and varied stock of Fruit Trees, Flowering and Ornamental trees and Shrubs to be found in the Australian colonies.

The soil of his establishment being naturally poor and exposed to the most trying winds, the advantage to purchasers getting trees from such a situation is evident. John Baptist offers this explanation, as many parties are under the impression that all fruit trees, plants, &c., offered for sale by him are grown on rich soil.

John Baptist respectfully solicits intending purchasers to call at the nursery and view his collection previous to purchasing, as he firmly believes they will be pleased with the growth and healthy state of all plants which will be offered to them.

Prices, moderate; and any person requiring a large number of plants will be dealt with on liberal terms.

All orders from the country and neighbouring colonies punctually attended to; trees and plants correctly labelled and carefully packed.

Omnibuses leave the Post-office every half-hour, and convey passengers to within a few yards from the entrance to the gardens.

The Mary Smith, for Melbourne, put back to Watson's Bay during the night of the 24th instant.

There is no report of importance by the Crishna, from Adelaide.

The Clara Novello sailed from the Downs on the 7th April, making her passage to the Equator in twenty-seven days. The meridian of the Cape of Good Hope was passed on the 9th June, on which date she encountered a violent westerly gale, in which a sea broke on board, carrying away her port bulwarks and a portion of the main rail, smashing the longboat and deck water casks, drawing the ring bolts to which they were lashed from the deck. Her easting was run down in about 40° S., easterly gales prevailing as far as 104° E., when the weather moderated and hauled round to the westward; passed Cape Otway on the 20th. During the passage from the Cape she carried away her maintopsail-yard.

The City of Quebec left Leith on the 22nd March, crossed the Equator on 30th April, and passed the meridian of the Cape of Good Hope on 12th June; from thence she had a continuance of easterly weather until nearing the land; she ran her easting down from 44° to 47° S., passing Cape Otway on the 20th instant. She brings a heavy cargo of iron, &c.

The Primula left the Downs on the 7th April; crossed the Equator 5th May, and the meridian of the Cape on 11th June; she ran down her easting in 44° S., and passed Cape Otway on 20th instant. On the 21st instant sighted a black barque with white ribbon and patent topsails, off Wilson's Promontory, standing the same way; also a Hamburg ship, on the 24th, bound north.

The Callender is bound for Brisbane, but has put in to discharge part of her cargo. On Tuesday she experienced a severe N.W. gale in the Straits, in which she lost several sails; a fearfully heavy sea was setting in. Captain M'Gee has favoured us with papers to the 19th instant.

Barometer at Fault.—Captain Smith, of the Primula, has favoured us with the following particulars:—The annexed low readings of a barometer regulated by a "standard" in London will perhaps be of interest to some readers. Preparations and expectations were made for a hurricane, and the ship kept under low snug sail for days (three) in consequence, and great anxiety incurred, for nothing beyond a common gale took place; it may be, however, that others experienced the full strength of the gale, and it would be of interest to compare positions, to show the movements of gales in the Great Southern Ocean:—Civil Time: Position, 45° south, 50° east. Barometer on 23rd June, 3 p.m., marked 28·90 and fell fluctuating up and down one-tenth to 28·60 at 3 p.m. on 24th June, from which it gradually rose to 29·60 on 25th, the weather changeable, with moderate winds from N.W., E., and W.S.W.; cross sea. Barometer commenced falling from 29·20 at 3 p.m. on the 5th July, gradually descending to 28·50, the lowest reading at 9 a.m. of the 7th. For twenty-four hours it was stationary at 28·60; from this low reading it gradually rose to 29·30 on the 11th July. As in the former instance, we had very changeable winds and weather; wind veering against the sun, cross seas from N.W. and S.E., but no heavy gale occurred. Latitude 42° S., longitude from 90 to 109 E. 1 a.m., July 1st, a heavy gale from W. by S. Lowest reading, 29·00, at 9 a.m.; at 12 p.m., 29·30. Latitude 43° S., longitude 77·81 E.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1862.

The Legislative Assembly met yesterday, at twenty-nine minutes past three p.m.

Mr. Leary presented a petition from Campbelltown against the bill to prohibit future grants in aid of public worship.

In answer to the same hon. member, Mr. Cowper said that, before the bill abovementioned should be considered in committee, a tabular statement would be prepared, showing the present recipients of State-aid—and in answer to Mr. Forster, that the Government had received a communication from the Imperial Government upon the various descriptions of coals produced in the colony, but that as another communication on the same subject was promised, it was not intended to publish the first, until both could be published together.

Mr. Lucas presented a petition from the Roman Catholics of the district of Petersham against the Matrimonial Causes Bill, and Mr. Egan from Roman Catholics of Dapto and Illawarra against the Bill to prohibit future grants in aid of public worship.

Mr. Dick brought up a bill to amend and simplify the law relating to the transfer and encumbrances of freehold and other interests in land, and moved that it be read a first time. Considerable discussion ensued as to the propriety of this course, objection being taken that a similar bill was already before a select committee. Finally the motion was agreed to, and the second reading of the bill fixed for August 2nd.

Mr. Arnold laid on the table plans relating to the road from Glebe Island to the Parramatta Road.

Petitions were presented, respectively—by Mr. Hart, from Waverley—and by the same hon. member from Roman Catholics of the Sacred Heart, against the Bill to prohibit future grants in aid of public worship; also by the same hon. member from Illawarra, and by Mr. R. Forster from Armidale, against the Matrimonial Causes Bill.

The other orders of the day having been temporarily postponed, the Liverpool and London Fire and Life Insurance Company's Bill, was, on the motion of Mr. Cowper, read a third time, and transmitted to the Legislative Council.

The House went into committee on the Matrimonial Causes Bill.

In committee, in division on clause 7, a dispute arose as to whether an hon. member, altering his place, after the tellers had been called, should be reckoned as he was first placed. The Chairman decided in the affirmative. The question was referred to the Speaker, by 19 to 18, the Chairman voting with the ayes. The Speaker concurred with the Chairman. The motion for going back into committee was carried by 29 to 10.

Clause 7, providing for restitution of conjugal rights, and for judicial separation, was carried by 28 to 14.

The resumption of the House, moved by Mr. Egan, was negatived by 29 to 7.

Clause 8, defining rules on which the Court should act, was agreed to.

The resumption of the House, moved by Mr. Egan, was negatived by 26 to 5.

Clause 9, providing for the reversal of a decree of separation, was agreed to.

Clause 10, providing for alimony to the wife, was carried by 25 to 4.

Mr. Raper moved the resumption of the House, which was negatived by 26 to 2.

Clauses 11 and 12, giving the wife the privileges of a feme sole in certain cases, were agreed to.

On clause 13, providing for dissolution of marriage, Mr. Wilson moved a series of amendments, the effect of which was to place the sexes on an equal footing, and which, after considerable discussion, were all carried by large majorities.

Mr. Egan moved an amendment, purporting to exclude members of the present Parliament from the benefits of the bill, which was negatived by 19 to 4.

The clause, as amended, was carried by 18 to 6.

Mr. Holroyd moved that the Chairman report progress, which was carried by 20 to 3.

It was agreed that the committee should sit again that day week, and should have precedence.

Several orders of the day were postponed to that day fortnight, and others to that day week.

The Pawnbrokers Bill was discharged on the motion of Mr. Holroyd, with a view to its re-introduction in another form.

The Church and School Lands Declaratory Bill was postponed for four weeks; the question of compensation to Mrs. Mary Jones for a week.

Mr. Hay moved the second reading of the Cotton Cultivation Encouragement Bill, which the hon. member described as an experiment not likely to form a precedent. It proposed to guarantee from heavy loss, not to grant bounties.

Mr. Robertson moved the adjournment of the debate, giving it precedence, for Wednesday next, which was agreed to.

A number of motions lapsed in consequence of the absence of hon. members.

On the motion of Mr. Wisdom, leave of absence was granted to Mr. Cummings for fourteen days.

On the motion of Mr. Lucas, a committee was appointed to consider the desirability of taking up the Pitt-street Tramway.

The committee was named by ballot.

During a discussion as to whether the ballot had been properly taken, the Speaker's attention having been, during balloting, called to the state of the House, it was found that a quorum was not present, and the Speaker adjourned the House, at five minutes to eleven p.m., to the usual hour on Tuesday next.

We like the candour of Mr. Towns: he tells us fair and square that if cotton will not pay, he will not grow it. He does not look for honour and glory, but profit; and he neither asks nor expects that people will pursue an industry which does not pay them in a spirit of blind enthusiasm.

But to grow cotton with success several things are necessary—suitable land and a favourable climate—and we have both; capital—and of this the colony itself possesses an overflow; mechanical appliances—and these can be obtained in the most perfect forms in a few months; skill in management—and the most qualified persons are prepared to offer their services for superintendence. Such are some of the conditions of success; and clearly we have them all.

But there others which we have not—labour which may be reckoned on when the cotton harvest is to be gathered. In England and on the Continent there are, we fear, millions who are anxious for such a field of industry, but who are as unable to find a passage to Australia as to the moon. It is quite certain that free labour cannot compete with slave labour unless other elements are taken into account. These seem now to be rising more clearly before us.

Steam implements of husbandry are giving skilled labour a power which will put slave and barbarous labour at a great discount. The hoe of the slave gives place to the steam plough of the freeman, whose mind is becoming the grand agent of production,—not mere brute force. Mr. Towns tells us that by using a steam engine he expects that what cost now £3 will be done for five shillings; that is, twelve acres will be prepared for what one costs now, and the 400 acres he cultivates with the ordinary plough at an expense of £1200 will be better prepared for £100. These are calculations which leave an enormous margin for error without shaking the general conclusion.

These instruments require, however, the possession of such skill as can be furnished by freemen experience; and indeed which, if possessed, must raise the slave to freedom. The law of nature has decreed that the same fiat which strips a man of his liberty takes from him half his worth.

The question of Chinese or coolie labour is now gone by. John Chinaman is now wanted for other colonies, where Europeans cannot labour and live, and the premium offered to him beside his passage money is £12. We have good authority for saying that Chinamen under engagements to work for a master, cannot at this moment be landed in Australia under £25 per head. Many will rejoice at this on the ground of antipathy to the race. God forbid that we should participate their joy; but we are glad with more than ordinary satisfaction that John Chinaman is wanted; that the value of his services is recognised; and that he will have the chance, under favourable circumstances, of learning the language and feeling the influence of Christian nations. The great social and political change which is passing in India is giving a new impetus to coolie industry. Under better auspices, it is likely to prove a grand industrial hive which will attract and enrich all nations. Even caste, that deadly yoke of industry and humanity, is vanishing before the railway whistle. A man loses his caste if he goes thirty miles an hour in a public conveyance, but he finally yields rather than lag behind at the rate of three! The consequences of the late convulsion are now tending to raise the Indian labourer, and make him of more value in his own land.

All these things are favourable. If labour rises in the outer world the general price of produce will rise too. The white man will be able, with his superior skill and appliances, to compete with all inferior races in their own industry, and the cotton plantations of this country will be more profitable far to Australia than those in countries which are cultivated by unwilling hands.

The question then is, what can be done by a public movement to assist the first grand experiment and assure its success. How far can the general policy of the country be made to harmonise with its advancement. We are not prepared to ask of the Legislature any sacrifice of public money. But certainly it does appear to us that the full advantage of our land and immigration policy might be fairly afforded. The principle now adopted is to open the land for occupation to the first comer, without regard to the land revenue it may produce. The moment the State ceases to deal with land as a property, and to seek for it the best price, there is no principle in five shillings more than in five farthings. For the accomplishment of this great object the Legislature might without any infringement of the new policy offer land in cotton districts, on the tangible and ascertainable condition of producing quantities of cotton. Certificates for the export of cotton would then pass as payment for the land, and entitle to the issue of a grant in proportion to the quantity shewn. It would require no other machinery than the Customs; no local survey or returns, since every hundred bales would demonstrate a title to the fee simple of one hundred acres; nor do we know that it would be of any consequence on what land the cotton were grown providing it were clearly our colonial produce. Every cotter who sold his packet of cotton would obtain his share of the land premium. It may of course be said that this would be a small encouragement to produce cotton, and far inferior to that offered by Queensland; but the cases are somewhat different; so long as the possibility of producing the cotton of commerce was a matter of doubt, the speculation was extremely hazardous. The cotton produced at the London Exhibition has removed all such questions, and simplified the calculation. We are sure of our crop if we could only find hands for its cultivation.

We imagine that an effort to interest the manufacturers of Manchester aided by these facilities would not be without success. They will be able to offer in their turn to working immigrants the prospect of becoming owners of the land, they would be sent to cultivate, and they would be able to take security upon the cultivation for the discharge of a portion of the cost of immigration. It is said, indeed, that they would oppose the immigration of their workpeople, lest the thinning of their numbers should raise the rate of wages. That there are some men of narrow understandings who would be guilty of this atrocity is far too much in harmony with human selfishness to be doubted, but the manufacturers of Manchester comprehend men of the noblest character, and most generous sympathies. Many of them, to our knowledge, lay down their money by thousands for the support of religious and charitable institutions. They are shrewd, calculating men, and every scheme offered for their acceptance would have to pass through a crucible. If however, a fair partnership in risk and effort were offered by this colony to the manufacturers in Manchester, we suspect that more liberality and vigour would be found on their side of the water than on our own.

Those who have called public attention to immigration as an alleviation of this great national calamity would, doubtless, meet any reasonable expectations were the Government of this country to invite their co-operation. It seems to us that a new form of industry might be naturalised among us—that within reach of the River Hunter many hundreds of families might be settled whose industry would add to the general wealth, while producing a staple which would command from the first the markets of the world.

A very compact and elaborate table has been compiled by Mr. Archer, showing the results of the late census in Victoria, and the distribution of the people in their various occupations. A table of this sort furnishes so much insight into the industry and social life of the people, and must be so valuable both to the politician and to the mercantile man, that no one can study it without appreciating the worth of well-collected and well-tabulated statistical returns, and without being convinced that the money spent in securing such complete and accurate information as will enable the community to become acquainted with itself is well laid out.

The total population of Victoria on the census-day, which is now more than a year ago, was 540,322. The Chinese and aborigines, who are classed together, number 26,426, and they are nearly all males, only 656 being classed as females. In the European population there is a great disparity of sexes, the males numbering 302,881, and the females only 211,015. A hundred thousand females are wanted to equalise the numbers of the sexes. Up to the age of twenty-one, the numbers of each sex are pretty nearly equal, as both in native-born and in imported families the balance would be preserved. It is amongst adults from twenty-one years of age upwards that the inequality exists.

The occupations of the people are represented under fifteen different divisions, each division containing from two to nine further subdivisions. The last four classes include persons who mainly belong to the non-industrial classes. The phrase is not a very accurate one, because even people not classed as employed, are, more or less, really active, while it is certainly inapplicable to a large number of adult women, whose domestic duties are of essential value, and who indirectly aid the occupations of the stronger sex. The number of persons of independent means, not specified as holding any office or engaged in any occupation, is only 1364, of whom 350 are females. There are, of course, plenty of persons rich enough to be idle if they like, but they do not like, and so the colony can only boast of 1000 gentlemen whose business consists simply in living on their means and spending their money—a very small aristocracy indeed. The class comprising wives, widows, children, visitors, comprehends 254,503, or nearly half of the total population. Prisoners and inmates of public establishments number 4559. Persons unemployed, by reason of illness or accident or physical defect, or from other causes, number 11,085. These four classes taken together comprise a trifle more than one-half of the total population.

The remaining eleven divisions comprehend the various occupations in which the colonists are engaged. Class No. 1 comprehends persons engaged in Government offices, and numbers 3774. These are the persons who find a place on the Estimates, and whose income is provided out of the public funds. This number includes also municipal officers. The number is not so disproportionate to the whole population as the popular complaints about the multiplicity of officials would seem to indicate, and one-half consists of the army, navy, and police.

Class 2 gives us the learned professions, which comprise 3149 persons. The phrase "learned" is used in a liberal sense, and is made to comprehend the subordinate attendants as well as the principals. Thus, under the three great divisions of divinity, law, and physic, sextons and pewopeners are classed with the clergy—nurses and hospital attendants with the doctors—and law stationers, official assignees, bailiffs, and law-officers, with barristers and attorneys.

Class 3 comprises the professions to whom custom is not courteous enough to extend the title of "learned," though often as really deserving it. We have here included all teachers and inspectors of schools, architects, engineers, and surveyors, editors, reporters, photographers, musicians, &c. These number altogether 4227.

Class 4 brings us to those who trade, and here we have 15,594. The merchants, who are the principal importers, number 773. The class of agents, including bankers, brokers, accountants, auctioneers, commission agents, &c., whose business consists principally in facilitating mercantile transactions, number 1901. Those who directly sell in a more or less retail manner, number 7850, while the hired servants of those who sell, such as clerks, shopmen, storemen, salesmen number, only 5070. It is obvious, therefore, that a very large number of persons must be engaged in selling who do without hired service.

Class 5 comprises those engaged in performing what are called personal offices, which is rather a vague term, but which is made to include three sub-classes. First, persons occupied in houses of accommodation and entertainment, who number 4632—a larger number than the whole civil and military service; secondly, those engaged in furnishing articles of dress who number 8115; and thirdly, domestic servants, who number 23,695, of whom about one-fifth are males.

Class 6 gives us the number of those who are engaged in manufacturing, that is to say who are engaged in some shape or other in re-fashioning, and mostly for local use, various material articles, and they number altogether 33,780. This includes of course all the persons engaged on private or public works, and artisans of every class.

Class 7 brings us to the gold-fields, and the diggers and those whom they employ number 83,120. The miners, properly so called, are subdivided into six classes. There are 5818 engaged in puddling, 4433 sluicing, 7713 raising quartz, 1133 crushing quartz and amalgamating, 42,559 digging for alluvial gold, and 20,204 unclassified diggers. By far the larger number of diggers therefore are properly so called, and are principally engaged in turning over earth in search of gold. At the same time the number engaged in using implements somewhat more costly and less portable than shovels and pickaxes is considerable. There are 373 persons engaged directly in attending on steam-engines.

Class 8 brings us to rural occupations—to squatters and farmers and their employés—and these number 52,801—very considerably more than are engaged in manufacturing pursuits. The stockholders number 1064, and the men employed on stations number 8660. Farmers and gardeners are reckoned at 17,343, but this includes 4321 females, mostly farmers' wives, who really do the work which would have to be done by a female servant if they could not do it. Farm servants and labourers number 23,875, a very much larger number of persons, therefore, both as employers and as employed, are engaged in agriculture than in pastoral pursuits.

Class 9 gives those engaged in the carrying trade both for passengers and goods, and numbers 6744. Of these, 2490 are engaged in sea navigation.

Class 10 comprises those who deal in food, and also the wholesale dealers in drink. The purveyors of animal food number 6685. The purveyors of vegetable food and drink number 5695.

Class 11 includes all miscellaneous pursuits not elsewhere classified, and numbers 11,299.

Roughly glancing, therefore, at the occupations of the people, the gold-fields have attracted the largest number, rural pursuits rank next, then come the "personal offices," then those engaged in manufacture, then those engaged in general trading, then the purveyors of food, and then the persons engaged in the carrying trade.

VICTORIA.

By the Callender, we have the Melbourne Age of the 19th instant.

That journal states that the man named Wilson, alias Baker, remanded from Sydney to Melbourne on the charge of having murdered Edmund Cuckson, on or about the 23rd of May last, was yesterday brought up on remand at the City Police Court, when two respectable persons living at Sandridge deposed that he arrived by the Coringa, from Boston, on the 2nd of May, and was engaged eleven days in discharging her. One of the witnesses also stated that he was seen about Sandridge from the 21st to the 26th of the same month. In the absence of any specific evidence against him, he was discharged.

The same paper reports a decision of some importance to those engaged in the tobacco trade, given in the County Court, by his Honor Judge Pohlman. An action was brought by a Mr. Fox to recover from Mr. Heard, tobacconist, £6 10s., for short delivery of a parcel of tobacco. The plaintiff had purchased from the defendant ten cases of tobacco, at 4s. 2d. per lb., the sale note purporting that each case contained 20 lbs. On examining the cases it was found that instead of containing 20 lbs. each, they did not contain more than 17½. The action was brought to recover the difference in value between the quantity actually paid for and that delivered. For the defence, it was alleged that it was the practice of the trade to sell the boxes as containing 20 lb., though none of them really did so. The Judge thought, as the plaintiff paid for 200 lbs. of tobacco, he was entitled to receive that quantity, and gave him a verdict for the full amount, with £3 3s. costs.

The following account of a remarkable circumstance, which is attributed by the Bendigo Independent to the recent earthquake, we extract from that journal:—"Not far from the Union Hotel is a continuous crack in the earth's surface, traceable nearly across the whole width of the main Murray Road, and extending the length of nearly 300 feet. Inclining nearer to the northerly end of the crack, we find a chasm about six feet wide, 128 feet long, and about 51 feet deep in the lowest part. This was first discovered by the neighbours a day or two after the earthquake was felt in Melbourne. In near proximity, are several mining shafts, the depth of which at this spot is from eighty to ninety feet. At first we thought it probable that an old drive had caved in, but it bears not the slightest approach to the external appearance of such an event; the chasm is clear and defined, and the depth as we have stated—thus plainly refuting the idea of its being the effect of an old drive giving way. It has a most awful look, and besides, is extremely dangerous. The only solution we can arrive at is, that it is one of the effects of the earthquake which was felt at Melbourne, and which possibly has run through the more inland portions of the colony."

The Supreme Court.—The Court will sit on Tuesday next, the 29th instant, for the purpose of delivering judgment in the cases undermentioned:—The Queen v. Davis, Dibbs v. Newcastle Coal and Copper Company, ex parte Grover, Graham v. Murnin, Insolvency of Bingham, Fitzpatrick v. M'Guigan, Rigney v. Dangar.

The Royal Lyceum Theatre.—The chief event in the theatrical world during the week now drawing to a close has been the almost unprecedented popularity of Mr. Whitworth's Maori drama and its brilliant concomitant, the burlesque of the Three Kings. The drama was brought out, for the first time, on Saturday last, in the presence of a densely crowded audience, and was received throughout with loud manifestations of applause from all parts of the house. From the commencement to the finale, "Whakeau" proved to be an unmistakeable success,—the Maori chiefs, Dr. M'Gaurin, the principle members of the Lyceum company, and the author, being severally called before the curtain, and complimented with cordial marks of approbation. The performances of the Maori warriors incidentally introduced into the play have been the subject of intense admiration and interest every evening since the production of the piece. Their wild but picturesque appearance, their sudden barbaric movements and gestures, not unmixed at times with a certain careless grace and dignity—their songs, their national games, and their dances, are all such as to defy adequate description, and must be witnessed to be appreciated. The drama is enlivened by a considerable intermixture of comedy, but is not without a judicious proportion of action and language of a more elevated and serious description—calculated to develop the dramatic powers of the two leading characters in the hands of Miss Fanny Morgan and Mr. C. W. Barry. As Alice Mortimer, Miss Fanny Morgan met with her usual success—her spirited, life-like impersonation being such as effectually roused the sympathetic indignation of all present. Her passionate appeals to the wretched outcast, her despair and her abhorrence at his proposals, were represented in her best style of acting. Mr. Barry, as the renegade Englishman, was also very good, and the comedy part of John Peter was, as may be supposed, productive of roars of laughter, as interpreted by Mr. Edward Younge. Mrs. Younge, as a merry little mischevous Abigail, was excellent—so much so that one could have wished she had more to do and to say. The other characters were done every justice to, a circumstance that not a little contributed to the favourable reception of the piece. Whakeau, or the Pakeha Maori, has been performed with the burlesque all the week, and will be played again to-night. There will be a mid-day performance of the Pakeha Maori to-day, for the convenience of those who reside at a distance. A similar mid-day performance will, it is understood, also take place on Wednesday next. A new play, entitled the Maori Queen, is announced for representation, in which the Maori troupe will also appear.

Dull Times.—It has been generally remarked that trade has for some time past been very dull in town, and that shopkeepers and others are alike experiencing the want of customers. This state of things is, to a certain extent, attributable to the over-trading which has occurred both at Burrangong and at Forbes, by which supplies far in advance of all probable demands have locked up considerable sums of money. When stocks are beginning to be worked off, business will again revive, and Yass will come in for its share of returning prosperity. The present season of the year is generally unfavourable to business. Farmers are occupied in putting in their grain, repairing their fences, and improving generally their homesteads. As much of commercial activity depends upon this class of customers, we must wait patiently till they have concluded their farming work, when, no doubt, they will again turn their attention to trafficking on the gold-fields, and thus cause a renewal of briskness in trade.—Yass Courier.

NEW SOUTH WALES PARLIAMENT.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, JULY 25.

THE SPEAKER took the chair at twenty-eight minutes past three.

ABOLITION OF STATE-AID.

Mr. W. FORSTER gave notice of the following contingent motion on the Order of the Day for committal of the Bill to Prohibit Future Grants for Public Worship, viz.—"That the following stand as clause 1:—The Act 7th William IV., No. 3, and the schedule marked C to the Act 17th Victoria, No. 41, are hereby repealed." That the following words be added to clause 2:—"Provided that no such stipend or allowance shall in any case exceed the highest amount which an officiating minister may receive under the first section of the Act 7th William IV., No. 3."

GRANTS FOR RELIGION.

Mr. LEARY desired to ask the Colonial Secretary, without notice, "Will the Government lay upon the table of the House a tabular statement, showing the names of the present recipients of State-aid, and their salaries or allowances, drawn from schedule C, or other public funds?"

Mr. COWPER said he would endeavour to have such a statement prepared before the House went into committee on the bill.

COLONIAL COALS.

Mr. W. FORSTER asked the Colonial Secretary, "Have the Government received any correspondence or reports upon the various descriptions of coals produced in this colony, and tested by the Admiralty."

Mr. COWPER said some correspondence had been received, but as further reports were promised by the next mail, he preferred not to make the matter public till these additional documents were received.

LAND TITLES AND TRANSFER BILL.

Mr. DICK, in accordance with leave granted on the 11th June last, brought up a bill to simplify the laws relating to the transfer and encumbrance of freehold and other interests in land, and moved that it be now read a first time. The hon member stated that he purposed making a subsequent motion for referring the measure to the select committee now sitting on the Land Titles Declaration and Registration Bills, in order that it might be reported on with those measures.

A brief discussion arose as to whether it was necessary to refer the bill to the committee—Mr. COWPER pointing out that the measure was already before them, having been submitted by Mr. Torrens. It was contended, on the other hand, by Mr. DICK, that the measure had not been formally referred by the committee to the House. This was all he desired to accomplish by the motion.

The bill having been read a first time,

Mr. DICK then moved that the bill be printed, which motion was agreed to.

Mr. DICK then asked leave of the House to move that the bill be referred to the select committee appointed to inquire and report upon the Land Titles Declaration Bill.

Mr. HART having objected, the motion lapsed.

It was then ordered that the bill be printed, and that the second reading stand an order of the day for Tuesday, the 5th August next.

RETURN.

Mr. ARNOLD laid upon the table a return to order in reference to the road between Glebe Island and the Parramatta road.

Mr. DALGLEISH drew attention to the circumstance that the specification and longitudinal section were not included in this return.

LIVERPOOL AND LONDON FIRE AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

On the motion of Mr. COWPER, the Liverpool and London Fire and Life Insurance Company's (private) Bill was read a third time, passed, and it was ordered to be transmitted for the concurrence of the Legislative Council.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were presented as follows:—Against bill to prohibit future grants for religion: By Mr. LEARY, from certain residents of Campbelltown. By Mr. LUCAS, from 132 clergymen and Catholics of the district of Petersham. By Mr. EGAN, from certain Catholic residents of Dapto and Illawarra. By Mr. HART, from certain residents in the district of Waverley; and from certain Catholics of the Sacred Heart district.

Against Matrimonial Causes Bill: By Mr. EGAN, from certain residents of Dapto. By Mr. HART, from certain residents of Illawarra. By Mr. R. FORSTER, from certain residents of Illawarra.

Against Pastoral Interests Contribution Bill: By Mr. HARPUR, from the committee of the Patrick's Plains Benevolent Society.

MATRIMONIAL CAUSES BILL.

The House went into committee for the further consideration of this bill.

Clause 7. Application for restitution of conjugal rights, or judicial separation, may be made by husband or wife by petition, was put, and on a division being called for, the hon. Secretary for Lands, after the tellers were appointed, walked over from his seat with the ayes in order to vote with the noes.

This involved a somewhat lengthy discussion, the House remaining in division for over twenty minutes. The CHAIRMAN ruled that the hon. Secretary's vote should be taken with the ayes, but as the noes insisted upon including him in their return, after three sets of tellers had been appointed, it was moved by Mr. DALGLEISH that the point of order should be reported to the House.

This motion was put and carried on division, by the casting vote of the chairman, the numbers being 18 to 18.

The House then resumed, and Mr. WISDOM reported the point of order.

After some considerable discussion, as to the facts of the case, in which Mr. MORIARTY, Mr. DALGLEISH, Mr. WILSON, Mr. LUCAS, Mr. HART, Mr. MARTIN, and Mr. ARNOLD took part,

The SPEAKER gave it as his opinion that the Chairman was right in taking the vote of the hon. member the Secretary for Lands on the side on which he was sitting at the time that the tellers were appointed.

Mr. LUCAS moved that the House do resolve itself into committee for the further consideration of the Matrimonial Causes Bill.

A division was called for, in which the ayes were 29 and the noes 10.

The House then went into committee upon the bill.

The question being put on the clause—

Mr. WILSON said, the Speaker having decided that the name of Mr. Robertson should be taken with the ayes, that in the first place the former division lists ought to be corrected.

Mr. WISDOM took a different view, and

Mr. WILSON moved that the chairman leave the chair and report the matter to the Speaker; but after a debate the motion was withdrawn.

The clause (7) was then put, and carried on a division of 28 to 14.

Clause 8. "Courts to act on the principles of the Ecclesiastical Courts."

Mr. HOLROYD desired to amend this clause by inserting the words "Any Court heretofore having jurisdiction in the matter in England," in lieu of the words "Ecclesiastical Courts, &c."

Mr. HART objected to the clause, first because it did not relate to proceedings for the dissolution of marriage; and second, because Judges of the Supreme Court would not be bound to act on the principles on which Judges in England acted. It would in fact be converting the Supreme Court into a Legislature.

Mr. MARTIN said he intended to vote against the third reading of this bill, and thought it would be better to allow the hon. member who had charge of the measure to frame it according to his own view, and to carry it through committee with its objectionable principles and all its imperfections in point of grammatical construction.

Mr. ARNOLD reminded the hon. member for Orange that the principle of a bill was decided on the second reading. It was for the purpose of correcting phraseography that bills went through committee.

Mr. PIDDINGTON thought the advice given by the hon. member for Orange was perfectly sound, considering the whole course of the proceedings in reference to the bill.

Dr. LANG said that, although he had voted against the second reading of the bill, as it had been affirmed by the House he did not consider it his duty to offer it any further opposition, but should do his best to make it as good a measure as possible.

Mr. EGAN considered the advice tendered by the honorable member (Mr. Piddington,) and the honorable Minister of Works came with a bad grace from those gentlemen, seeing that on one occasion those two honorable members, when they disapproved of one clause of a bill, kept thirty-two members up till daylight with their opposition. He (Mr. Egan) contended that the opponents of this measure were justified in adopting every means to defeat it, particularly as it had been introduced without any necessity—public feeling, as expressed by petitions, being unanimously against it. The opponents of the bill would take their own course.

Mr. HARPUR maintained that a principle had been introduced into the bill since the second reading which made it virtually a different measure from that which the House had affirmed, and that this circumstance alone warranted those who objected to it in taking every proper and constitutional means of defeating it.

The question was then put on the amendment, which was passed, and, a verbal amendment having been made, the clause was agreed to.

Clause 8 (Courts to act on the principle of the ecclesiastical courts) was next proposed.

Mr. EGAN moved that the chairman now leave the chair, and ask leave to sit again at a later hour in the evening. The committee divided; ayes 7, noes 29.

The clause was then put and passed.

Clause 9 (Decree of separation obtained during absence may be reversed) was amended verbally on the motion of Mr. W. FORSTER, by the substitution of the word "or" for the word "nor," in the ninth clause.

Mr. EGAN again addressed the committee in opposition to the measure, contending that it was not asked for by the people, whose opinions ought to receive some attention on the part of the House. He moved that the Chairman leave the chair.

The motion was put, and negatived by 26 to 5.

The clause, as amended, was put and passed.

Clause 10. (Alimony may be paid to the wife or her trustees) was agreed to without debate by a majority of 25 to 4.

Clause 11. "In every case of judicial separation wife to be considered as feme sole with respect to after-acquired property."

Mr. RAPER was sorry to see the House so obstinate and persevering in pressing this measure; he thought the opinions of the 3000 petitioners against it ought to be respected, especially as there were no petitions in its favour. At any rate, some delay ought to be allowed, so that the public might have full opportunity for considering it, and he, therefore, moved that the Chairman leave the chair, and ask leave to sit again this day month.

Mr. HARPUR suggested to the minority opposed to this bill the propriety of withdrawing their opposition, seeing that the House was legislating for the public as a whole, and not for a section of it. He respected their conscientious objections to the measure, and at the same time he believed himself that if it became law it would debase marriage to a mere contract of convenience, and lead to adulterous alliances. He was surprised to see the hon. and rev. member for West Sydney supporting the bill after the sixth clause was amended, in entire opposition to the principle expressed by him on the second reading. He (Mr. H.) thought the best mode was to allow the bill to pass through committee, and to oppose it by every possible means afterwards.

Dr. LANG thought he had pursued a straightforward course. He had consistently voted on the principle that marriage, being a divine institution, should not be dissolved on any other ground than the adultery of either party. But judicial separation was quite a different thing, and would properly apply when either of the parties required protection from the cruelty or ill-treatment of the other. He thought it his duty to make the bill as good as possible, but reserving to himself the right of voting against the third reading, if it were not then of such a character as he could approve of.

Mr. PIDDINGTON said the member for Patrick's Plains was more inconsistent than the hon. member for Sydney West, since the hon. member had voted for the second reading, and then, because an objectionable word had been inserted in the sixth clause, he was opposing every clause in the bill.

Mr. MORIARTY objected to the addition that had been made to the sixth clause, and should vote against the third reading of the bill, unless the bill were recommitted and an alteration made. Though he should do this, he yet felt it to be his duty to endeavour to make the bill as complete as possible in all its parts, in the event of its being passed into law. That would be the only ground upon which he should vote until the bill came to the third reading.

Mr. EGAN denied that Catholics only were voting against this bill, since members of all denominations had voted against the bill. It was too bad to throw the whole opposition upon the Catholics; for himself, he could say, that he did not oppose the bill as a Catholic, but upon public grounds. No one person in the community had asked for such a measure as this, whilst numbers had petitioned against it.

Mr. WILSON said it was not necessary to delay legislation until petitions were presented calling for it. Let the hon. member for Eden only look at the list of Government measures on the paper, and he would see that no petitions had been presented asking for any one of them. A law similar to this was in force in Victoria, and only one petition had been presented under it. The same law was in force in Scotland, and in all his experience he had never known but one case under it; whilst in America the law was carried very considerably farther than this, since even incompatibility of temper was made a ground of divorce, and yet they were told that in that great country the marriage tie was held in the highest respect.

The House divided on Mr. Raper's amendment, which was lost by a majority of 26 to 2.

The clause was put, and carried without division.

Clause 12 (By judicial separation wife becomes a feme sole as regards contracts and suing; husband shall not be liable) was put, and carried without remark.

Clause 13 (Dissolution of marriage at suit of husband for adultery; at suit of wife for incestuous adultery, &c.) having been moved,

Mr. WILSON moved that after the word "husband," in the first line of the clause, the words "or wife" be inserted. His object was simply this, with other amendments in the clause, to place the woman in exactly the same position as the man in regard to the right of claiming a divorce.

The amendment was put, and carried on division by a majority of 21 to 4.

On the motion of Mr. WILSON, a further amendment was made in the 33rd line, where the words "or her" were inserted after the word "his," with a view to carrying out the object proposed to be secured by the foregoing amendment. This was agreed to, but, on a motion for the further amendment in the 34th line, proposing to insert the words "he or she" instead of "his wife," some discussion took place.

Mr. MORRIS intimated that it was his intention to vote against the third reading of the bill. He objected to these proposed amendments in the clause, being quite unable to understand why married women in this colony should be placed in a higher position to that awarded to them by a similar enactment in Victoria. There a modification of the law of divorce was proposed similar to that sought to be secured by the substitution of these amendments, but it had been disallowed at home. He could not understand why in this bill there should be a departure from the present law of divorce in the mother country.

Mr. HAY said there were many members of that House who would take good care that the bill did not pass at all unless these amendments were embodied in it, so as to secure an equalisation of legal right to remedy in the case of both sexes. This was nothing new in legislation. It had been the law of Scotland for many generations, and had been found to work well. He (Mr. Hay) had the high authority of Lord Lyndhurst for saying that in this respect the divorce law of Scotland was far superior to that of England. The law of England on this point was notoriously unfair to the female sex, and it was therefore undesirable for them to follow it. Their law ought rather to be assimilated to the law of Scotland. So important did he think this, that it would be better for them to postpone legislation herein altogether than to sanction what he believed to be an injustice.

Mr. WILSON quite agreed with what had fallen from the hon. member for Murray. As he had stated at an earlier stage of the bill, he should vote against it altogether if this material alteration in the thirteenth clause were not made.

After some remarks from Mr ROBERTSON,

Mr. ARNOLD expressed himself in favour of the clause as it originally stood, pointing out that greater evils resulted to society from the adultery of married women than from the adultery of married men. He thought the same remedies were not precisely applicable to both sexes, because the circumstances were different.

Mr. HARPUR thought they were legislating against adultery as a sin, instead of providing against it as a social wrong. The guilt was the same, but the injury done to the constitution of society was greater in the person of the married woman than in that of the married man.

After some further remarks from Mr. W. FORSTER and Mr. ARNOLD,

Mr. W. FORSTER argued strongly in favour of the proposed amendments, contending that they were bound to see that the female sex were placed on an equal footing with the other sex. Married women when injured had as much right to their remedy as married men. Indeed, the wrong done by the man was the greater, as the male sex could specially protect itself by legislation. They were bound to give an equal relief to both sexes. They were not to consider how these amendments were likely to be treated at home.

Mr. LUCAS agreed that the offence was as great a breach of morality in the one party as in the other, although he admitted that there was a great difference between the magnitude of the evil in a merely social point of view.

Mr. EGAN moved that the Chairman leave the chair, but the motion was negatived without a division.

Mr. TERRY could not give his assent to the bill in its present shape. He thought it ought to be assimilated to the law as it stood in England and in Melbourne.

The amendment was put, and carried on a division of 20 to 8.

Mr. WILSON moved the omission of some other words in order to carry out his intention with regard to the clause, whereupon a long discussion arose on the question as to the propriety of making the law equal for both sexes, some hon. member, maintaining that the injury was similar in both cases, while others held, on the contrary, that a marked distinction existed—the consequences resulting from adultery on the part of the woman being far more serious than could possibly arise under the opposite circumstances.

After some remarks from Mr. MORRIS,

Mr. EGAN called attention to the state of the House, but a quorum being present,

Mr. W. FORSTER said this was merely a question of relief, not of penalty, and maintained that the wrong done by adultery was the same in the case of either husband or wife. The more we progressed in civilisation the more we should equalise the legal rights of the sexes.

Mr. SUTHERLAND also contended that the offence of adultery was equally criminal in husband and wife, as they entered into obligations which were mutually binding.

Mr. HAY held that both parties should have equal rights to judicial separation, the arguments as to spurious issue were fully settled; they did not apply to divorce. The divorce a vinculo must be given or refused by both parties; all the reasons that applied to one applied to the other.

The question was then put on the motion for omitting the words, and the amendment was carried on division, by a majority of 20 to 5.

After a further verbal amendment,

Mr. EGAN moved, as an addition to the clause, that the following proviso be appended to it: "Provided, nevertheless, that no member of the present Parliament, who shall have voted in either branch of the Legislature for the third reading of this Act, shall, under any circumstances, be permitted to be benefited thereby."

This amendment was put, and negatived on division, by a majority of 19 to 4.

The clause, as amended, was agreed to on division, by a majority of 18 to 6.

The Chairman then left the chair. The House resumed, and leave was asked to sit again on this day week.

Mr. TERRY moved, in addition, that the question have precedence on that day.

Mr. DICK objected to such precedence being given.

The motion was agreed to without division, with Mr. Terry's addition.

PAWNBROKERS BILL.

On the order of the day being called for the second reading of this bill,

Mr. HOLROYD said his attention had been called to the fact, that this bill was one which ought to have been introduced in a committee of the whole House. He desired to know what was the opinion of the hon. the Speaker on the matter. If he were of opinion that it ought to have been so introduced, he should move that this order of the day be discharged.

The SPEAKER said he was of opinion that the bill ought to have originated in committee. The bill was accordingly by leave withdrawn, and the order of the day discharged from the paper.

COTTON CULTIVATION BILL.

Mr. HAY, in moving the second reading of the Cotton Cultivation Encouragement Bill, said he desired to state that the gentlemen who were members of the Association had a considerable quantity of cotton seed in their hands which they wished to put to some account at once. It was thus important that something should be done in respect of this bill, so that they might be in a position to see whether the Legislature approved of the project or not. If the House did not, it would be as well that the fact should be known, in order that the association might, at any rate, distribute the cotton seed they had to persons willing to sow it; if the House did approve of the enterprise, then of course it was desirable that they should be made acquainted with that circumstance, so that they might make arrangements for planting the cotton themselves. The principle on which they proposed to undertake this growth of cotton was shown by the provisions of the bill. The bill authorised the Government to grant land for the purposes of the association, on such terms that this land might be made available as a fund to meet any losses that might arise in carrying out this undertaking. The object of the association was to ascertain whether the colony was adapted to the growth of cotton. The association would be formed much on the character of an agricultural association, the Government taking such guarantees as were necessary for the public safety, and having reference to the mode in which the association was to be carried on. The members of the association were to try at their own expense, but with certain guarantees against loss, the experiment whether cotton could be grown profitably in this country or not. The bill had been for a long time before the House; and no doubt every hon. member who heard him had made up his mind in reference to the matter, as to whether this was a project which deserved encouragement. That was all the association required at the hands of the House. He need not say a single word as to the great importance of the question at this particular crisis. At any time it would be of great importance to ascertain whether we could create a new export which might be of extreme value not only to the colony at the present time, but also in future years, by providing an amount of profitable employment for a particular class of labour which might not, perhaps, be fully employed under the present circumstances. There were conditions with regard to the character of the labour employed in producing our exports which were peculiar, and which rendered it desirable that we should have exports of an agricultural character, the production of which might employ labour of a different kind. And if it could be shown that in this country we could grow cotton profitably, it would conduce, perhaps more than any other production, to the establishment of this as a prosperous and a great country. There could be no better time than the present for trying this experiment. There was reason to believe, from what they had recently heard of the value of the samples sent from this country, that we could grow cotton profitably. If it could not be grown profitably, however fine it might be in quality, it would be better to abandon the enterprise. But whether it could be grown profitably or not remained to be seen, and also under what conditions. It would be wrong in the House to leave this matter to chance or to the unaided efforts of individuals. It was one of those cases in which the Government might fairly step in and be the means of saving much time and labour which otherwise might be unprofitably expended. And after all if it were not successful the country would not suffer any great loss in consequence of the experiment being made. There might, however, be great loss occasioned if the Government offered extravagant bounties for the encouragement of the cultivation of cotton in this colony. By such a course a considerable amount of labour and capital might be diverted into a channel that might ultimately turn out to be unprofitable, and then when the Government withdrew the bounties what would be the condition of the people who had turned their labour into this channel? The consequences would be ruinous to those who had largely invested capital in that particular way. The whole of the experiments would be made in the most public way. This association would not interfere with the distribution of labour or capital in any way, but would perform all the functions of an agricultural association for enabling agricultural experiments to be tried without loss to individuals. It was upon these grounds that he had taken this matter in hand. He thought the House ought to allow the bill to be read a second time to-night. He would not feel justified in asking hon. members to go into committee this evening, but it was essential that the bill should be dealt with as speedily as possible. If it were advanced one stage, the discussion on the details of the bill could take place in committee.

Mr. ROBERTSON said the bill was doubtless one of great importance, but he did not think the hon. member would attain his object by pressing on the second reading of the bill to-night. He would therefore move that this debate be adjourned till Wednesday next, to take precedence of all other business.

Mr. DICK supported the amendment, remarking that, although he was disposed to give every encouragement to the growth of cotton, he nevertheless had serious objections to some of the provisions of this bill. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. WILSON also expressed his concurrence with the motion of adjournment, believing that this was a matter that required to be fully discussed, involving, as it did, a principle that was somewhat novel—the encouragement of cotton-growing by associations assisted by Government, instead of leaving it wholly to private enterprise.

The motion of adjournment was then put and passed.

MOTIONS LAPSED.

The following motions lapsed in the absence of the hon. members who had given notices of them, viz.:—Mr. Samuel's motion relative to road from Orange to Wellington. Mr. Faucett's motion relative to travelling expenses of Crown Prosecutors. Mr. Holt's motion regarding registration of bills of costs. Mr. Hart's motion respecting Post Office deliveries in city of Sydney. Mr. Windeyer's motion relative to public recreation grounds. Mr. Bell's motion relative to leave of absence for Mr. J. T. Ryan. Dr. Lang's motion relative to pawnbrokers' licenses. Mr. Faucett's motion relative to transfer of land at Newcastle.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

On the motion of Mr. WISDOM, leave of absence for fourteen days was granted to William Cummings, Esq., on urgent private business.

SYDNEY CORPORATION.

Mr. COWPER moved for leave to bring in a bill to amend and consolidate the laws relating to the Sydney Corporation.

Mr. ROBERTSON seconded the motion, which was put and passed, and the mover and seconder were deputed to prepare and bring in the bill.

PITT-STREET TRAMWAY.

Mr. LUCAS moved, "1. That a select committee be appointed, with power to send for persons and papers, to inquire into and report as to the desirability of taking up the Pitt-street tramway. 2. That such committee consist of the following members: Mr. Arnold, Mr. Dickson, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Sutherland, Mr. Dalgleish, Mr. Garrett, Mr. Piddington, Mr. Hoskins, Mr. Driver, and the mover."

Mr. DALGLEISH seconded the motion.

Mr. ROBERTSON demanded that the committee be chosen by ballot.

A ballot was accordingly taken, when the following members were chosen, viz.—Messrs. Lucas, Arnold, Dalgleish, Piddington, Caldwell, Dickson, W. Forster, Sutherland, Hoskins, and Driver.

A question arose as to whether the non-presentation of twenty ballot papers was not to be taken as a proof that there was not a quorum present, but during the discussion thereon, Mr. FORSTER called attention to the state of the House, and there being only eighteen members present,

The House, at five minutes before eleven, adjourned until three o'clock on Tuesday next.

STATE-AID BILL.—On Thursday—the evening of the division on the second reading of the Bill to Abolish future Grants in Aid of Public Worship—Mr. Faucett (against), paired off with Mr. Atkinson, who was in favour of the measure.

THE DISTRESSED OPERATIVES IN LANCASHIRE.—On Sunday last, a collection, in aid of the unfortunate people thrown out of employment by the stoppage of the cotton mills in Lancashire, was made at the Wesleyan chapel in Goldsmith-street, and on Monday evening a meeting of the congregation was held in the same building, presided over by the Rev. Mr. Chapman, the pastor. The call thus made was well responded to—a sum of no less than £64 7s. being subscribed, including the Sunday's collection, for the distressed. An amount of £2 12s. 6d from the Wesleyans at Mummell was included in the total.—Goulburn Chronicle of Wednesday.

CAPTURE OF HORSE-STEALERS.—Information was received at the police-office on Sunday last that two horses and some saddles and bridles had been stolen on the night of the 10th instant from the paddock of Mr. Landale's station, Moulamein. Mr Landale's brother and another gentleman started in pursuit, and have succeeded in capturing the thieves and bringing them in handcuffs to the Moulamein lock-up.—Pastoral Times.

GOLD DIGGING AT COONEY'S CREEK.—A number of persons are now engaged digging for gold at Cooney's Creek, about four miles from Jugiong. It seems that a man named Billingsley has been quietly at work at the place for six months past, with what amount of success was not known to our informant; and that lately a number of persons having visited the locality to try their fortune, he (Billingsley) at once procured the services of four men to aid him in the work. From this it is thought that the occupation must have been found remunerative. The sinking is very shallow—almost surfacing.—Yass Courier.

GOLD IN GOULBURN.—There is probably hardly a town in the colony where gold is not said to have been discovered at some time or another; Goulburn has not been an exception. On various occasions it has been reported that the precious metal has been found here, and we believe with some degree of truth, though, unfortunately, in such infinitesimal and unperceivable quantities that rendered the proclamation of a payable gold-field at Goulburn, and payment of a handsome reward to the lucky discoverer, out of the question. The last report of the kind originated on Saturday. It appears that two men were engaged sinking a well on an allotment belonging to Mr. Baird, in Goldsmith-street, the soil of which looked likely, when one of them discovered some specks of gold, about fifteen feet from the surface, just above the rock, and picked them up with his knife. A few dishfuls of the soil were subsequently taken home by the same parties and carefully washed, when about a dozen specks were obtained from each dish. This, of course, would not afford anything like a remunerative prospect. It is satisfactory, however, as confirming the belief that gold exists in the neighbourhood, and perhaps some day a rich gold-field may turn up suddenly, and give Goulburn a go-a-head push that it might otherwise look for in vain.—Goulburn Chronicle.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE A. Cheeke, Esq., Judge.

DEEMAR V. HAMMON.

This was an action for injuries to a dogcart hired by defendant in February last, when, according to plaintiff's evidence, it was let from eleven o'clock in the forenoon until four o'clock in the afternoon, but was not brought home till near midnight, and on examination next morning it appeared that both panels were broken. Defendant stated that he hired the dogcart to proceed to Parramatta, where he safely arrived with a friend and two female cousins, and that when about to return a thunder storm came on which detained them for some time, that no damage was done to the dogcart, but it was returned in the same state as when hired. Defendant was corroborated by his friend and by the two ladies up to the time of their return to the Newtown Road, where the whole party alighted and had supper, after which defendant and his friend took the dogcart home. The case had been tried on two former occasions and the plaintiff nonsuited, the Judge not considering the evidence sufficient. It was now proved by the coachbuilder that the injuries were very recent, and that the repairs cost £9. Verdict for plaintiff, £10. Mr. Falls for plaintiff, Mr. Driver for defendant.

FARRELL AND WIFE V. APPA AND WIFE.

This was an action of slander. The words, which were of a most disgusting nature, were sworn by the female plaintiff and the servant of a neighbour to have been uttered by the female defendant. For the defence a witness was called who was at work at defendant's the whole day on which the slander was alleged to be spoken, and she, together with the female defendant, denied that such language was ever made use of. Verdict for defendant. Mr. Forster for plaintiff; Mr. Tonson for defendant.

BRADY V. FULLERTON.

Plaintiff sued for £22 10s. balance of rent under a six months' tenancy. Defendant swore that in consequence of the house being out of repair he complained to the plaintiff, and it was arranged that he should continue as a weekly tenant; and from the evidence of his servant it appeared that on removing the last load of goods he asked the plaintiff to whom he should deliver the key, and was told to leave it with the tenant next door, which he accordingly did. Verdict for defendant. Mr. Falls for plaintiff; Mr. Sheppard for defendant.

BAKER V. WELCH.

Plaintiff sued defendant for the board and lodging of a third person, which it was alleged he had guaranteed by affixing his mark to the account. It was stated by plaintiff and his wife that two other persons were present. Defendant denied that he had ever made his mark as alleged, and it appeared that he had made an affidavit in the cause to which he had signed his name. The Judge nonsuited the plaintiff, telling him that as there were other witnesses to the transaction they should have been produced. Mr. R. Forster for plaintiff; Mr. Falls for defendant.

JOLLY V. ROSSLEY.

This was a dispute relative to the price of timber cut by plaintiff for defendant. Plaintiff was supplying timber for the tramway, and running short applied to defendant to supply a portion, he (plaintiff) agreeing to cut some long lengths for defendant. The arrangement made at the time, to which defendant did not object, was that plaintiff should be paid 18s. per hundred feet. Defendant would not deny that the sum claimed might have been asked by plaintiff, but he did not think he was serious in asking it, and therefore did not object to it. Verdict for plaintiff, £17 15s. Mr. Hellyer for plaintiff; Mr. Garrick for defendant.

DOYLE V. FEISLEY.

This was an action for money lent. The parties were related by marriage, and there had been various money transactions between them. Verdict for plaintiff, £30. Mr. Hellyer for plaintiff, Mr. Garrick for defendant.

This concluded the July sittings.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE the Police Magistrate, with Messrs. Cooper and Day.

The man Cairns, who was on Tuesday brought before the Police Magistrate and Mr. Cohen, charged with having stolen a suit of clothes, the property of William Loft, and a coat, the property of Joseph Ross, and by them remanded until to-day, was brought before the Court. No further evidence was adduced against him, nor was he prepared to show that he had become honestly possessed of the apparel. With reference to the suit of clothes, he was convicted of not having satisfactorily accounted for his possession, and was sentenced to pay a penalty of £3, or to be imprisoned one month. With regard to the coat, having submitted himself to the summary jurisdiction of the Court, he was found guilty of stealing, and sentenced to be imprisoned fourteen days.

Three shopkeepers were fined 20s. each on conviction of having, in contravention of the Police Act, obstructed the footway of George-street by placing goods thereupon.

Three persons, apprehended for drunkenness, were discharged. A woman was fined 10s. for disorderly conduct while drunk, in a public-house; and two men were fined 20s. each for disorderly conduct, while drunk, in public places in each case with the alternative of forty-eight hours' imprisonment.

DISTRESSED LANCASHIRE WEAVERS.—By an advertisement in another column we perceive that a meeting is called at Poehlman's Hotel this afternoon, to effect a combination of the musical profession of Sydney for the object of getting up a concert, upon a grand scale, for the benefit of the distressed men of Lancashire. We are informed that many members of the profession have already expressed a wish to give their services for the above object, and as the matter only requires organization, it is hoped that all parties favourable to the project will attend the meeting this afternoon, or send in their names to the committee about to be formed for that purpose.

ORDINATION SERVICES.—Mr. W. F. Reid, having accepted the invitation he recently received to preach to the independent Presbyterian congregation of Queanbeyan, his ordination to the office of the holy ministry, agreeably to previous notification, took place in the Mariners' Church, on the evening of Thursday last, the 24th instant. The Rev. Charles Cater commenced the proceedings with praise, prayer, and the reading of the Scriptures. The Rev. S. Humphreys, who presided on the occasion, preached a suitable and excellent sermon from second Timothy, 4th chap. 1st and 2nd verses—"I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom; Preach the word; be instant in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine." At the close of the sermon, Mr. W. F. Reid, at the request of Mr. Humphreys, stated at some length, and in appropriate terms, his views of the nature and design of the Christian ministry, and the solemn duties and obligations which it involves. Thereafter the Rev. John Reid offered up a very impressive prayer, setting his son apart to the office and work of the holy ministry. In the course of the prayer, the imposition of hands was employed, in which ceremonial the Revs. Messrs. Reid, Humphreys, Cater, and Baker, took part. The Rev. William Ridley, of the Free Church, gave the charge to the young minister, taking as the subject of his address, Daniel xii. 3, "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever." The various services were interesting and impressive, and, though protracted till near ten o'clock, all kept their places to the close. The Rev. W. F. Reid, the newly ordained minister, enters upon his new sphere of labour on the first Sabbath of August next.—Communicated.

THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

THE eighth annual general meeting of the Sydney Philharmonic Society was held on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the Infant Schoolroom, Castlereagh-street. The Hon. F. L. S. Merewether, Esq., M.L.C. in the chair.

The following Report of the society's progress since its formation, eight years ago, was read by Mr. Ebsworth:—

In presenting their Annual Report, your committee would briefly trace the progress of the society since its establishment in the month of February, 1854.

At that time a few gentlemen, believing that there were a sufficient number of amateur musicians in the colony to support a society having for its object their mutual improvement and gratification in the performance of the most approved vocal and instrumental music, established this society.

Although at first their number was small, yet there were among them some zealous workers who sustained the operations of the society amid many difficulties and discouragements, and some of whom now remain to witness the expanded growth of the association they then formed.

Among these deserve to be mentioned the names of J. H. Plunkett, Esq., who has ever since maintained the office of president, and Messrs. Mountcastle and Aldis, who have from the first exerted themselves in the most unwearied manner in the promotion of its objects.

The committee do not think it necessary to expatiate on the advantages that the encouragement of the art of music is calculated to confer on this community, where the opportunities of refined and intellectual recreation are so few. But they feel that they can claim the merit of having diffused a taste for good music throughout a very large section of the population, and of having stimulated the formation of similar societies in this city, and in various country districts.

During the past year, a most important step was taken, by effecting a combination of this society with the Vocal Harmonic Society. Your committee had long felt that in their public concerts sufficient encouragement had not been given to choral music; and, in fact, it was in consequence of this omission that the Vocal Harmonic Society was originally formed.

Your committee learned that the experience of three years' active exertion had demonstrated to the committee of that very efficient choral body, that the musical public of Sydney was not sufficiently numerous to support two large independent societies, and it was suggested that a union of the two might be effected, by which a considerable diminution of the expense of management would be made, and the concerts themselves, from the combination of vocal and instrumental music, would be rendered more attractive.

Accordingly, in January last, your committee, after some conferences with the committee of the Vocal Harmonic Society, purchased the whole of their effects at a very large reduction from their original cost, and have added thereby greatly to their musical strength and resources. The society is now in a position to produce entire oratorios, and music of the highest class, in proof of which they may refer to their performance of part of the oratorio of Elijah, during the past year, which gave the greatest satisfaction.

Possessed of these advantages, the committee earnestly invite the co-operation and assistance of those musical amateurs in this community who have hitherto refrained from joining them. They believe that there are numerous instrumentalists, connected with the recently formed Volunteer band, who would gladly seize this opportunity of practice, and they beg to inform such that a weekly practice will regularly take place, conducted by Mr. Douglas Callen, whose abilities as a teacher, a composer, and conductor are universally recognised. For those ladies and gentlemen, also, who desire to practise vocal music, a regular weekly practice will be kept up, under the direction of Mr. W. J. Cordner, who is generally allowed to be the most competent chorus-master in the colony.

The committee wish it to be understood that attendance at these practices entails no expense for the purchase of music and incidental charges on the performing members, it being considered that the services rendered are an equivalent for the very large expenses incurred by the society. They do trust, therefore, that their liberality will be generously responded to, and that such an accession of new members will take place as will make the coming year a noticeable one in the musical annals of the colony.

The number of members and subscribers for the year just concluded was 190, which your committee submit cannot be considered a satisfactory representation of the interest that is taken in musical matters in this community, and they hope, for the credit of the colony, in relation to art generally, that the number will be considerably increased during the approaching year.

The annual expenditure has, of course, been largely augmented by the purchase of the effects of the Vocal Harmonic Society. They constitute, however, a very valuable asset to the credit of the society. The committee are glad to be able to announce that the regular annual expenses have been covered by the amount received from subscriptions and admissions to the concerts, leaving a balance, which has been applied to the liquidation of outstanding liabilities.

The committee have a pleasing duty in acknowledging, with thanks, the kind manner in which the Castlereagh-street Schoolroom has been granted to them for the practice of the members. They have also to offer the thanks of the society to those professional and amateur musicians who have given their gratuitous services at the concerts; among whom should be especially noticed Madame Sara Flower and Mr. James Waller, as vocalists, and Monsieur Boulanger and Master Anderson, as pianists.

Earnestly soliciting their fellow-members not officially connected with the society to exert themselves to induce recruits to join their ranks, the committee now resign into their hands the trust confided to them during the past year, with the confident expectation that their successors having such ample means at their command, will secure a brilliant success in the year that is to come.

The report having been adopted, several matters affecting the future wellbeing of the society were discussed, and resolutions for the furtherance of those objects carried.

The Hon. F. L. S. Merewether was then re-elected vice-president of the society for the current year. Mr. Mountcastle was elected treasurer, Mr. Gedye secretary; and the following gentlemen members of the committee, viz.:—The Rev. Canon Walsh, Messrs. O. B. Ebsworth, J. G. Waller, W. H. Aldis, Joseph Dyer, J. Black, Mr. Whittell, Mr. Muriel, L. J. Spyer, A. Cubitt, Mr. Collier, J. F. Josephson, T. S. Southern, Mr. Bushell, and Mr. Wilkins. Messrs. Hurford and M'Donnell were afterwards chosen auditors.

A cordial vote of thanks, on the motion of Mr. WALLER, was then accorded to Mr. W. H. Aldis, for the unwearied zeal he had all along displayed in advancing the best interests of the society.

Mr. ALDIS, in reply, thanked the meeting for their kind notice of his humble endeavour to promote the cause of music and the interests of the society. After being a working member of all the musical societies in this city for the last quarter of a century, he considered himself entitled to some relaxation; he therefore, on this account only, resigned the office into the hands of his successor.

The customary vote of thanks to the chairman brought the proceedings to a close.

CORONER'S ENQUIRY.—The City Coroner held an enquiry at his office yesterday, touching the death of a child named Eliza Richardson, aged nineteen months. It appeared from the evidence that, on Saturday the 5th instant, the deceased, while sitting on her mother's knee, pulled a pot of hot tea off the table, and spilled it over her body. The mother applied oil and other remedies; and as the scald did not appear to be severe she did not consult a medical man. Subsequently, however, symptoms of fever appeared, and the little sufferer was taken to Dr. Milford, who prescribed wine and other stimulants, and ordered the child to be put into a warm bath. This treatment came too late, and the child expired on the evening of the 22nd. The Coroner found that the child died from exhaustion, produced by accidental scalding.

INQUESTS.—Our Newcastle correspondent reports as follows:—An inquest was held on Wednesday, at the Miners' Arms, by the coroner, Dr. R. C. Knaggs, touching the death of Catharine Wilmot. From the evidence it appeared that the deceased came into the bar of Mr. Wamsley's Inn, at about eight o'clock, being then rather tipsy; she had a glass of rum, called for water three different times, and drank a tumbler-full each time; then she sat down at the table and laid her head upon her hands. The landlord, thinking that she was asleep, did not wish to disturb her, till one of the witnesses drew his attention to her, saying that she felt "awfully cold." Upon examining her he found that she had just expired. The medical evidence proved that she died from apoplexy accelerated by intemperance. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.—A second inquest was held on Thursday morning, at Rouse's Hotel, on the body of Anne Walker, a child about four years of age, who was burned to death under the following circumstances:—About a week ago her mother went out, leaving the child alone in the house. A neighbour, hearing the child scream, broke into the house, and found her enveloped in flames. After some exertions she succeeded in extinguishing them before the mother arrived. Medical evidence went to prove that death was caused by inflammation of the lungs in consequence of the immense surface of the body that was destroyed by the burns. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

PORT OF ENTRY.—By a proclamation in yesterday's Government Gazette, a new port of entry is established at Balina, on the Richmond River, and such port is declared to extend from Evans' Creek to the southern boundary of Queensland.

BURRANGONG GOLD-FIELDS.—By a proclamation in yesterday's Government Gazette, a local court, with the powers and authorities described in the "Act to amend the Laws relating to the Gold-fields," is established on "the gold-field on Crown lands at and in the vicinity of Burrangong Creek, and its tributaries, and at Demondrille Creek."

APPOINTMENTS.—The following have been gazetted:—Mr. Frederick Gardiner, to be a commissioner of Crown lands for the purpose of reporting upon and assessing the grazing capabilities of runs of Crown lands in the districts of New England and M'Leay; and Mr. Joseph Ede Pearce, to be police magistrate at Young; Mr. L. V. Dulhunty, police magistrate at Carcoar, to be agent for the sale of Crown lands at that place.

ACCEPTED TENDERS.—The following tenders have been accepted by the Government:—Mr. R. Haworth, site for telegraph and post-office, Wollongong; Mr. Alexander Graham, for the erection of a passenger station at Burwood; Mr. John Paton, for the erection of a passenger station and platform at Hexham.

THE SEASON.—The Pastoral Times of the 18th states that a correspondent living on the north bank of the Murrumbidgee calls attention to the injury that part of the country is sustaining from the want of rain. It is curious that (adds that paper), while on the Edward and Billabong especially, within a radius of forty miles from Deniliquin, the weather has been since the new moon remarkably wet, no rain seems to have fallen beyond the Murrumbidgee.

BOY DROWNED.—On Friday last a lad about fourteen years of age, the eldest son of Mr. Thomas Molloy, of the Yass River, was drowned in attempting to cross the Murrumbidgee, below Mr. S. Taylor's station. The river had been rapidly rising, and two persons who crossed on horseback shortly before the unfortunate youth, had considerable difficulty in making their horses keep their feet, as the water was over the saddle flaps. Molloy was driving over in a cart, and while in the stream it capsized, and it is probable that he was immediately swept down by the current, for although search was made for the body during the whole of two days, it has not been found.—Yass Courier.

REVIEW.

The History of New South Wales, by RODERICK FLANAGAN. London: Sampson Low, Son, and Co.; Sydney: Edward F. Flanagan.

THE early history of countries that attain greatness is like the early biography of men who achieve eminence. While the history is making no one notices it, for the future is not unfolded or even indicated. But when the greatness has been established, then the historian goes back and traces it to its origin, and hunts for all the early indications of the later developments.

The first settlers on the shores of Port Jackson were hardly conscious of the important part they were playing in the world's history. Governor Phillip, indeed, in the inaugural speech with which he celebrated the first establishment of civil government, caught a distant glimpse of future possibilities. "Britain," he said, "resigning the American continent to the dominion of her full-grown offspring, magnanimously seeks in other parts of the earth a region where she may lay the foundation of another colonial empire, which one day will rival in strength, but we hope not in disobedience, that which she has so recently lost." It is, perhaps, worth noting that in this same speech he congratulates his audience that they, unlike the majority of the colonisers of America, "are influenced by no thirst for gold, ambition of conquest, or love of adventure." Conquest has certainly never been possible in Australia, from the fact of there being, comparatively speaking, no native population to conquer; but, whatever may have been Captain Phillip's motives, the thirst for gold and the love of adventure has certainly had a good deal to do since his time in carrying forward the work which he started.

Whatever his anticipations of ultimate prosperity might have been, they belonged undoubtedly to a remote future. There was nothing then to indicate the rapidity at which, after a certain date, the work of colonisation would advance. A few miles in all directions from the spot where he stood was all that had then been explored. Now Sydney is about midway between Port Denison on the north, and Port Lincoln on the south-west, and all along this line of coast colonisation has established itself. A line drawn across the map, too, from one of these ports to the other would cut off all the south-eastern quarter of our continent, the greater portion of which space is already more or less occupied.

The first great start given to the advance of Australia was the importation of the merino, and the discovery that the climate suited the growth of fine wool. This established an export, and laid the basis of commerce. And though protectionists may expatiate on the blessedness of being independent of the foreigner—of not being obliged to go abroad either to buy anything that is wanted or to sell anything that is produced, their doctrines do not fit with historical facts. Just as at the present time the colony is alive with hope that in cotton will be found an article of export that will give a powerful stimulus to our agricultural development, so the growth of wool was in the first instance the basis of prosperity. If we were to grow no cotton till we could weave all we grow, it would be long enough before we should do any good in that line; and if the early colonists had thought only of growing wool to weave it, they would have got on very slowly. The great secret of commercial advancement was hit when an article of export was provided.

After the introduction of the merino, the next great stride was made by the opening up of the western interior. This task was achieved in 1813, by Messrs. Wentworth, Blaxland, and Lawson. It had been bravely attempted in 1794, by Hacking, but, after struggling for some time with the difficulties of the timbered ravines, he was forced back. Mr. Flanagan, after searching in vain for some record of the successful trip in which the sources of the Cox River were at last reached by the three gentlemen above named, expresses his regret that, while full accounts should exist of exploratory journeys of far less interest and importance, none of the three travellers should have thought it worth while to jot down for publication the incidents of their adventure. This is a defect which happily it is yet possible to remedy, if those who can supply the information are willing to do so. The three travellers did not absolutely penetrate to the Western country. But they broke the neck of the difficulty, and conquered the standing bugbear of the Blue Mountains. An official, Mr. Surveyor Evans, completed the task. The far west once opened up, a new career of prosperity commenced. As experience has since shewn, our true sheep country lies westward of the main range, and our great mineral resources lie there too. The task for this generation is to make a railway where Messrs. Wentworth and company first cut their way through the scrub, and let in the light of civilisation.

Commercial prosperity once secured on a permanent basis, the interest of Australian history centres then mainly on the gradual growth of civil liberty under the oppressive restrictions of a convict régime, and the attempts at religious liberty in opposition to the assumptions of the State-favoured sects. This is a chapter that is neither all dark, nor all bright. Those who contended, and with ultimate success, on behalf of the right cause have to suffer some abatement in their fame from their frailties and follies, and those who resisted that natural progress which was in harmony with the spirit of the age, and which was therefore irresistible, do not altogether fail in conciliating some measure of personal respect. Mr. Flanagan narrates the course of events with an evident effort at impartiality, and though preferences peep out here and there, there is nothing like political partisanship, no distortion or suppression of the truth for the purpose of blackening the characters of certain public men. The same cannot be said of every effort that has been made to write the history of New South Wales.

The most distinctive peculiarity of Mr. Flanagan's work is, that it brings down the history almost to the present date. The narrative closes with the year 1860, but the appendix contains Mr. Robertson's Land Act. Mr. Flanagan's connection with the daily Press of Sydney made him personally cognisant of all the more recent developments of our constitutional history. In writing this portion of his book he had no longer to depend upon records, but could trust his memory. At the same time, as it is impossible to be an indifferent spectator of exciting contests, the historian shows himself in this part of his work more amenable to partialities and prejudices, nor can his estimate of various public men be accepted as unimpeachable. He has certainly done injustice to Sir H. W. Parker, whose capacity for official business is underrated because it was connected with so little display. The untimely death of the author caused the second volume of the work to lose the benefit of his revision. Its value is in consequence considerably diminished. Misprints of names abound, and there are also some careless statements and some inaccuracies which would doubtless have been corrected. The political contests of the time, however, are largely elucidated by extracts from the speeches of the leading men. A chronological style of dealing with events has been adopted, which is convenient for the purposes of narration and reference; but the effect upon persons unacquainted with the colony is hardly favourable to an understanding of the bearings of our political movements. A historian of colonial politics certainly writes under difficulties. It is hard to be brief and yet to be sufficiently specific to make the nature of political movements intelligible. The history of the colony, and especially the history of the last ten years, has yet to be written. We cannot pretend to say that Mr. Flanagan has achieved this task; but he has made a useful contribution towards it, and his work will be valuable to all who may wish to make themselves acquainted or refresh their memory with the facts of our history.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Will you be so good as to allow me a brief space in the Herald to say a word or two with respect to the New Zealand chieftains now performing at the Lyceum Theatre. Any one who has witnessed their performances must be convinced of the dexterity and skill they display in handling their warlike weapons, and it is hardly to be wondered at that our English soldiers, untrained as they usually are to the scientific use of the sword and bayonet, should be no match for them in single combat. On witnessing their performances, it struck me that one or two of them would be rather awkward customers for our renowned swordsman, Professor Parker, to meet with. He is very dexterous, and also accomplished, as a swordsman, but I think some of these New Zealanders would rather puzzle his tactics. I have frequently in conversation with him heard him declare that he would be willing to meet any one—civilised or savage—from any country in the world, and that he would not be afraid to come off conqueror. Now is an opportunity for him to try both his skill and his courage, an opportunity which may perhaps not occur again; and if he is any way anxious to meet one of these New Zealanders, I make no doubt, from what I have heard, that arrangements may be made for that purpose. If Mr. Parker is desirous of showing his skill; if he is capable of beating men whose mode of warfare is so very different from our own, and to prove the superiority of his tactics over those, as he himself boasts, of all others, now is his time, and he will at once, acting upon this hint, set about the initiative.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.,

ONE OF THE VOLUNTEERS.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Friday, July 18, to July 25.

THE movement originated in Sydney for the relief of the distressed operatives in the manufacturing districts of England has, we are happy to say, been warmly taken up, and promises to extend generally over all the districts of the colony. The contributions have poured in with a promptitude and liberality highly creditable to the donors, and notwithstanding the shortness of time at command, the treasurers were enabled to remit a first instalment of £5000 by the mail steamer Bombay on Tuesday, leaving a goodly balance in hand as the nucleus of a second instalment to be forwarded next month. One pleasing fact connected with the movement is that the subscriptions came from all classes of society, and include even the children of the various Sunday schools, whose amounts in the aggregate are by no means insignificant. The fund will be administered in England under the direction of Sir Daniel Cooper, Mr. Edward Hamilton, and Mr. James Macarthur.

The great discussion on the second reading of Mr. Cowper's Bill to Prohibit Future Grants of public money for Public Worship was concluded on Thursday night, when the second reading was carried by a majority of one, and the committal of the measure ordered for the 6th proximo.

Intelligence has been received from Melbourne to the effect that three men have been captured in the sister colony who are supposed to be portion of the gang who lately robbed the escort from the Lachlan. In the encounter which preceded the apprehension, it is said one of the party was shot dead, while a policeman received a severe wound at the hand of one of the supposed robbers. The particulars of the affair have, however, not yet reached Sydney.

His Excellency the Governor left Sydney on Wednesday evening, accompanied by Mr. Turville and Mr. Hale, of Bellambi, on a visit of inspection to the coal works of the latter gentleman, with the intention, also, of visiting the harbour works and other improvements in the town of Wollongong.

By direction of the Admiralty, some very interesting experiments, extending over several days, have just been concluded at the steam factory department at Woolwich Dock Yard, with a view to test coal from the Australian mines. Samples from eight different pits were fully experimented upon by competent officers from the factory department, and the result is highly important, as proving that Australian coal, for the purpose of steam navigation, is fully equal to any now in use.

Another daring highway robbery has just taken place; the Armidale mail to Sydney having been stuck up by a party of marauders, who rifled the mail bags and carried off a number of money letters addressed to merchants and traders in the metropolis.

A tea and public meeting was held in the Temperance Hall, on the evening of the 18th instant, to welcome the Rev. Dr. Steel, who has recently arrived from England, and is just entering upon his duties as pastor of the Free Church, Macquarie-street. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags, flowers, and festoons of evergreens. The attendance was unusually good, the large hall being filled to excess in every part.

An old woman, named Margaret Macdonald, died recently at Burwood, from the effects of suffocation while under the effects of drink.

Mr. Charles A. Johnston, son of Mr. David Johnston, of George's Hall, near Liverpool, was killed on Thursday week, by the accidental discharge of his gun. He had left home with a brother on a shooting excursion, and arriving at a fence, got off his horse to let down the rails; having passed through the fence, he was in the act of lifting his gun after him through the rails, when the charge exploded, the shots shattering the lower jaw and lodging in the back part of the head and neck, causing almost instant death.

The gold escorts, on Thursday, brought down 13,870 ounces from the Western and Southern districts. The accounts from the Lachlan continue of a most encouraging nature, some fine yields having been obtained from the recently opened claims.

The newly-formed Moruya Silver Mining Company have commenced active operations. A shaft has been sunk on the lode to the depth of 140 feet, and the lode is described as being 4 feet 6 inches in width. Four tons of the ore have reached Sydney, and a further quantity is shortly expected.

The cricketing season of the Albert Club was brought to a close by a ball in the Masonic Hall—this annual reunion having been put off to so late a period, out of respect to the memory of one of its most esteemed members, whose premature death occurred just about the time it usually takes place.

At the Central Police Court on Monday last three young men, named John Forster, William Edwards, and Edward Atkins, were convicted of pocket-picking on the Steam Navigation Company's wharf, and severally sentenced to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour for the space of six calendar months.

The annual meeting of the Wesleyan Church Extension Society was held on Monday evening last, in the York-street chapel, and was very numerously attended. The report of proceedings for the past year was considered highly satisfactory.

Mr. Fraser, of Cleveland-street, has commenced the manufacture of potted meats. They consist of tongue, ham, and beef, and appear quite equal to anything of the kind from English manufactories.

Mr. Alexander Glass, of Boggy Flat Farm, near Singleton, was killed, very recently, from the effects of a fall, the horse he was riding having stumbled and thrown him violently to the ground. The deceased gentleman was much respected, and had been for many years a resident of the district.

On Thursday, 17th instant, the barn of Mr. William Lee, of Wallalong, was destroyed by fire, containing about four hundred bushels of maize, two machines, two sets of harness, a ton of hay, and some farming implements. The fire was caused by a child setting some husks a-light behind the barn.

Colonel Hamilton, commanding the forces in the colony, has left Sydney on a visit to Maitland, for the purpose of inspecting the Volunteers of that district. The inspection is to take place this day (Saturday).

The discussion of the State-aid question has led to very bitter feeling in Bathurst, the advocates of abolition being unable to obtain a hearing. A request to the police magistrate that he would convene a meeting for them has been refused, from a fear that in the absence of adequate police protection another meeting on the subject would cause a riot. The persons concerned have, however, called an anti-State-aid meeting themselves for Wednesday next.

A woman named Mary Potter, aged thirty-four years, died rather suddenly on Monday morning last, at her residence, Waterloo Estate. The poor creature had formerly been happy and comfortable in position, but the death of her husband preying upon her mind, she had lately been addicted to drink, and gradually sunk into comparative destitution. Her children have been sent to the Orphan Asylum at Randwick.

A telegram was received in town on Wednesday, from Sofala Post-office, dated the 21st instant, stating that some ruffians had opened the mail bags at that place, and pilfered their contents, among which were moneys to the extent of £852 8s. 10d., the principal part, however, being cheques.

Some beautiful specimens of cotton, grown from New Orleans seed, has just been forwarded to Sydney—having been produced on the estate of Mr. Hickey, on the Hunter River. The sample Mr. Hickey has on view at the International Exhibition was produced from Egyptian seed. It is intended to send the New Orleans sample to keep it company.

From the latest accounts received, it would seem that the unfortunate dispute between the A. A. Company and their colliers is as far from settlement as ever. At a meeting of the contending parties, held on the 22nd, the miners evinced a determination to accept the conditions offered in May, viz., 4s. 6d. per ton, but the terms as to conditions offered by the A. A. Company were considered quite out of the question, as they embraced so many restrictions quite incompatible with the cause of the Union.

The miners on the Lachlan are taking steps for the purpose of establishing a hospital for the district. At a meeting held lately, a provisional committee was appointed, and a large amount subscribed in aid of the object.

The estimates of the probable expenditure of the Government of New South Wales for the year 1863 have been laid on the table of the Legislative Assembly. The sums voted for 1862 were—£1,699,109 to be provided for by loan, £1,285,555 chargeable on the revenue, and £247,560 for special appropriations. The sums required for 1863 are—£295,882 to be raised by loan, and £4,453,195 chargeable on revenue. The special appropriations amount to £310,563, making a total of £2,059,580, as against £3,232,164 in 1862.

Mr. Henry W. Oliver, late manager of the Branch Bank of New South Wales at Bathurst, is under remand on a charge of stealing the sum of £960, the property of the bank. Defendant's wife, apprehended as an accomplice, was discharged from custody.

The provisional directors of the Pacific Fire and Marine Insurance Company met on Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of opening the applications for shares. The number of shares applied for was nearly 50,000, only 10,000 being issuable.

A man named John W. Atkinson has been committed for trial at the Central Court on the charge of bigamy. The prisoner, it appeared, had been married to three different women, under various names.

The Premier, Mr. Cowper, paid a flying visit to the Illawarra district last week, receiving quite an ovation at the hands of the inhabitants of that favoured locality. During his stay he was presented with several addresses, expressing welcome, and acknowledging the great attention uniformly paid by the Government to the wants of the district.

A memorial and devotional service has been held in the Congregational church, Pitt-street, on account of the death of the Rev. T. Q. Stow, which took place on the 19th instant. The deceased clergyman had been long connected with the colony of South Australia, and was one of the first, if not actually the first, minister of the Gospel who arrived there. An interesting account of his labours was given on the occasion referred to by the Rev. John Eggleston, of the Wesleyan Church. The eldest son of the deceased gentleman is the Attorney-General of South Australia.

Accounts have been received from Port Denison up to the 14th instant. Fine sheep country continues to be discovered to the west of the Burdekin, between Burdekin River and Walker's outward track. A fine country was also reported to the westward of the Cape River, with a large salt lake adjacent in this direction.

An old brood mare died lately at Exeter Farm, near Braidwood, at the advanced age of thirty-eight years.

The weather during the past week has been remarkably fine; a little rain fell on Wednesday night, but otherwise we have had cold, clear, sunny days and (for this season of the year) very mild winter nights.

The arrivals to day have been the Primula, from London, and the City of Quebec, from Leith, with cargoes of general merchandise.

The Share market has been rather quiet during the week, and the transactions generally have been to a limited amount. There is, however, still capital open for investment, but stock is scarce, and holders of shares in the favourite companies are not disposed to sell except at advanced prices. The numerous applications for shares in the Pacific Fire and Marine Insurance Company are a proof that the public are inclined to enter into undertakings which are likely to be sound and of a remunerative character. Since allotment, 5s. per share premium has been offered for these shares. The fluctuations that have taken place are as follows:—In bank stock there has been very little doing this week.—Australian Joint Stock Bank shares are not quite so firm, and have been sold at a decline of 2s. 6d. per share. Australian Steam Navigation shares are very firm, and have advanced 13s. 4d. per share. The new shares also command higher rates. Wallsend Coal Company's shares are sought after, and the satisfactory report presented at their half-yearly meeting has caused them to find purchasers at an advance of 10s. 6d. per share on the new shares, and 15s. per share on the old shares. The following are the prices at which sales have been made during the week:—Australian Joint Stock Bank, £12 per share, and £11 10s. per share ex div.; Australasian Steam Navigation Company, £32 per share; Hunter River New Steam Navigation Company, £16 15s. per share; General Assurance, £9 10s. per share; Illawarra Steam Navigation Company, £4 12s. 6d. per share; Sydney Insurance Company, £3 6s. per share; Wallsend Coal Company (£10 paid), £13 15s. per share ex div.; (£8 paid), £11 per share, ex div. There has been some inquiry for the shares of the Moruya Silver Mine, and the shares on which £5 have been paid have changed hands at £7 per share.

DEBENTURES.—Government debentures are steady; terminables due in 1861 have been sold at 100½ and interest; Australasian Steam Navigation debentures, due in 1864, at 101½ and interest; Colonial Sugar Company's debentures, due in 1863, at 100½; due in 1865, at 103 and interest.

The half-yearly meeting of the Australasian Steam Navigation Company was held at the Company's office this afternoon, the Hon. C. Kemp, M.L.C., in the chair. The manager, Mr. Samuel Clark, read the report, which commenced with an allusion to the death of the late Mr. James Paterson, and an appropriate tribute to his long and faithful services while manager of the company, and referred to the appointment of his successor. The report proceeded to express the obligations of the company to Mr. Kemp, who, during the two months that the managership was vacant, had attended daily to the Company's affairs. It was stated that the boats had all been fully employed during the half-year, most of them profitably; and allusion was made to the abrupt termination of the service for conveying the South Australian mail to King George's Sound. There was some probability that the service would be resumed, and in the event of the Company tendering for it, they would take care to provide against so sudden a discontinuance as had occurred to the late contract. A variety of details were given with reference to the working of the Company's boats, and their patent slip; and the report concluded with a recommendation that a dividend of 5 per cent. for the half-year on the capital of the Company, and a bonus at the rate of 8s. per share on the £20 shares, be paid to the proprietors. The nett profits for the half-year amounted to £26,265, and, after paying the dividend, about £9000 would be carried forward to the profit and loss account; the dividend to be payable on and after the 1st of August next. The usual resolution for the adoption of the report, and for the payment of the above dividend, was proposed by the chairman, and agreed to. Resolutions were also passed for the re-election of Mr. M. Metcalfe as a director, for the election to the board of the Hon. J. B Watt, M.L.C., in the room of Mr. T. Walker, and of Mr. R. Jones, in the room of the Hon. J. Alexander, M.L.C., and for the re-election of Mr. F. Mitchell and Mr. J. Milsom auditors. The following resolution, which was proposed in a short complimentary speech by Mr. Buckland, and seconded by Mr. Piddington, M.L.A., was unanimously adopted—"That the proprietors desire to express their sense of the value of Mr. Kemp's services since the decease of the late manager, and request his acceptance of a piece of silver plate, to the value of one hundred and fifty pounds, as a mark of their appreciation of his attention to the interests of the Company." A motion was next submitted for increasing the qualification of directors to one hundred shares; an amendment to the effect that the qualification should be stock to the amount of £1000, was carried, but a ballot was called for, and it was agreed that it should be taken at the next half-yearly meeting.

A motion was also carried for increasing the qualification of the auditors to £200 stock paid up. The thanks of the proprietors having been given to the directors for their services, the meeting separated.

There has not been much business doing since the departure of the mail, but, as holders of goods have not forced sales, prices generally are unaltered. The cause of the dullness noticed is attributed to orders from the country having been executed to some extent during the last two months; and as the roads are in a better state than they have been for some time past, storekeepers in the interior are, for the present, well supplied. The following is the latest report of our markets:—

FLOUR.—The market at the commencement of the week showed signs of being a little easier, but during the last two days it has recovered, and holders of best brands of Adelaide are asking £15 10s. to £16 per ton. The millers' quotations remain the same. Wheat is steady, and Adelaide is worth 6s. 3d. per bushel.

LIQUIDS.—Ale in bulk is firm, and first brands are quoted at £8 10s. Porter in bulk is unaltered. Bottled ale and porter are in steady demand at full prices. Brandy is firm, and sales of Martell's have been made at 13s.; Hennessey's, 12s. 6d. Rum is still dull; 30 o.p., 3s. 9d. to 3s. 11d. Geneva is a little firmer; JDKZ has been quitted at 14s. 3d. to 14s. 6d.; and Key brand, at 15s. to 15s. 3d. In wines, there have been no transactions of importance, and prices are unaltered.

TEAS are not quite so firm, but as as the cargoes lately arrived have not been forced on the market, and are held for higher rates, prices have not given way. Congous range from £5 10s. to £8 10s. per chest, according to quality.

SUGARS are difficult of sale, but holders will not submit to reduced rates. Some small sales have been made during the week, at slightly higher prices; but, in the present state of the market quotations are nominal.

COFFEE continues firm. Manilla is worth 9d. to 9½d. per lb. in bond; Plantation, 12d. to 12½d. per lb. in bond.

CANDLES are very dull and few sales effected. Belmonts are quoted at 14d. to 14½d. per lb.

RICE is firm, and Patna is worth from £25 to £26 per ton; Java, £22 to £23 per ton.

SALT is steady. Liverpool is quoted at £4 5s. to £4 10s. per ton; fine salt is unaltered.

OILMEN'S STORES.—There have been few transactions in the articles under this heading, and prices are nominally the same as last week.

Messrs. Richardson and Wrench have sold during the week 153 acres on the Ousedale estate, Appin, £235; and 110 acres of back land on the same estate for £124. 50 acres of land, county of St. Vincent, £130. Small allotment on the Parramatta Road, Burwood, £30. 2 allotments on the Newtown Road, £7 and £5 7s. 6d. per foot, and 2 allotments in Wilson-street, Newtown, £3 and £3 2s. 6d. per foot. Block of land, corner of Jane and Darling streets, Balmain, £350.

Messrs. Durham and Irwin held their usual weekly produce sale this day, Friday. Only a few odd lots, scarcely worthy of note, were disposed of, at current rates. Sheepskins—About 6000 were sold thus—medium quality, 4d to 4½d per lb.; full-woolled, 5½d to 6½d per lb. Tallow—153 casks were offered, the bulk of which were sold thus—station £31 10s to £33; beef (shipping), £34 10s to £35 7s 6d per ton. Hides—About 1500 were offered, of which about 1200 were sold; the highest price obtained was 13s 6d. Prices ranged thus—First heavy, 12s 1d to 13s 6d; medium weights, at 8s 9d to 11s 10d; inferior, 5s 9d to 8s each.

Messrs. W. Dean and Co. report that business has been unusually quiet during the month. Our sales during the week have been well attended, but there has been little or no disposition on behalf of the trade to operate unless for immediate wants, and prices generally have ruled low. The only important auction sales made by us during the week are the balance of cargoes of timber, from New York, on account of Messrs. Towns and Co., viz.:—ex Gertrude, E. F. Mason, and Siam; and portions of the cargo of sugars ex Marechal Pelissier, from Mauritius, and the balance of the cargo of teas, sugars, rice, &c. ex Bailly de Suffren, from China.

The timber dealers were unwilling to operate freely, and only bought for actual consumption, at rates that would leave no margin for importers, though Messrs. Towns and Co. are the only holders, and their stocks are very small—not two months' consumption. The prices ranged from 23s to 29s for white and spruce pine; ash, 29s; hickory, 36s; about 200,000 feet were placed at these rates.

The balance of fine green teas, ex Bailly de Suffren, were placed at previous rates, also congous in small quantities. Sugars show a slight improvement, and an upward tendency may be looked for from this date in Mauritius and Manila; indeed, all holders are more firm, as a proof of which our sales show an advance of fully 30s per ton on last week's sales. Rice is firm; holders are unwilling to give way, but sales are confined to actual wants, at last week's quotations.

At Messrs. W. Dean and Co.'s sale of produce to-day, 8 casks tallow and 189 hides were catalogued and sold. 4 casks Newington beef tallow at 35s, 3 casks at 33s, and 189 hides at 13s.

COMMERCIAL.

STOCK AND SHARE LISTS.

[BARTON AND SON.]

THE demand for remunerative investments has been evinced this week by the eagerness with which the shares of the new Pacific Insurance Company have been applied for, which was to the extent of nearly five times the amount of the proposed capital. The shares have been allotted, and will doubtless come out at a high premium.

The shares of the Moruya Silver Mining Company have been sold—the £5 share (fully paid) at £7, and the £1 share at £3.

At the meeting of the Wallsend Coal Company, on the 24th, a favourable report was presented, and the dividend declared at the rate of 15 per cent. per annum.

The meeting of the Australasian Steam Company took place to-day, and the dividend was declared of 20s per share of £20, with a bonus of 8s per share, equal to 14 per cent. per annum.

Our sales have been—

Joint Stock Bank shares, at £11s 10s, ex div.
General Assurance shares, at £9 10s, ex div.
N. S. W. Government debentures, 1891, at 100½ per cent.
Australasian Steam ditto, 1864, at 101½ per cent., and interest accrued.

Loans upon the security of shares, at from 7 to 10 per cent. per annum.

July 25th.

[LENNON AND CAPE.]

The Share market has been very quiet this week, owing to the departure of the mail, and the near approach of the time for the half yearly dividend meetings in several of the companies. Very little stock offering for sale, and although a large amount of capital is seeking investment, capitalists are willing to operate at prices asked.

Our sales this week have been in,

Australian Joint Stock Bank, at £12.
Australasian Steam Navigation Company, at £32.
Sydney Fire Insurance Company, at £3 5s.
Illawarra Steam Navigation Company, at £4 12s. 6d.

Sydney, 25th July.

[J. MULLENS.]

There has been a little more stock offering this week, and the reports presented, as noticed below, have favourably influenced prices.

The only Bank shares I have sold have been those of the Australian Joint Stock Bank, in which the rise reported last week has not been maintained. Commercial Bank shares are still much wanted. I have sold Wallsend shares since the meeting at an advance of 10s 6d for the £8, and 15s for the £10 share. I have also placed some parcels of Moruya Silver shares at a premium of £2 on the fully paid-up shares.

The Australasian Steam Company declared a dividend of 5 per cent. for the half-year, with a bonus of 8s. per share, at the meeting held to-day. The account was of the usual satisfactory character, and about £9000 of undivided profit was carried over to the current half-year. The Wallsend Company yesterday declared a dividend of 7½ per cent. for the half-year. The reserved profits amount to £2800. The shares of the Pacific Company have been allotted, and there is some enquiry for them at 5s per share premium.

My sales during the week have been:

Australian Joint Stock Bank shares, at £12, cum div.
New Hunter Steam shares, at £16 15s.
Illawarra Steam shares, at £4 12s 6d.
Sydney Insurance shares, at £3 6s.
Wallsend Coal shares (£10 paid up), at £13 5s, ex dividend
Ditto ditto ditto (£8 paid up), at £11, ditto.
Moruya Silver shares (£5 paid up), at £7.
Colonial Sugar Co.'s debentures, due 1863, at 100½ and interest.
Ditto ditto, due 1865, at 103 and interest.

25th July.

PRODUCE CIRCULARS.

[MORT AND CO.]

WOOL.—At this season of the year the quantity of wool offering is so limited that it is impossible to test the market. At our sale to-day there was, if anything, a better desire to purchase, and the few lots sold realised satisfactory prices. One parcel scoured, JS, brought 23½d, and RJR, fleece, 19½d.

Sheepskins have slightly receded in price. We sold upwards of 3000, at from 4d to 6½d per lb.

Tallow.—Market firm, at late quotations. Good shipping parcels of beef sold £35 5s to £35 7s 6d per ton; ordinary samples, £31 10s to £34. 168 casks were quitted.

Hides.—A slight improvement is perceptible in the demand for hides, and good heavy parcels sold at 12s 6d to 13s 5d each. Other lots as detailed below.

[W. DEAN AND CO.]

WOOL.—At the various sales this week 100 bales have been catalogued, of which fifty-six bales were sold. Any lots of superior, good conditioned wools find ready purchasers at full rates; inferior and skin wools are neglected.

Sheepskins must be quoted rather lower, nearly 10,000 have been offered and sold at from 3½d to 6½d.

Tallow.—In this market there is no alteration to notice. 332 casks catalogued, of which 288 were disposed of.

Hides.—On account of the freight offering, prices have ruled somewhat higher. Of 3596 catalogued, 2887 were sold; prices ranging from 4s to 13s 5d.

We sold to-day, tallow—4 casks, Newington beef, at £35; 3 casks, at £33; 1 cask, £31 10s. Hides: 189 (Newington), at 13s.

Leather.—We have to report sales during the week at the following rates:—Sole, 8d to 9½d; kip, 1s 4d to 1s 7s; harness, 11d to 13d; bag, 11s 6d to 14s; kangaroo, 25s to 26s 6d; calfskins, 2s 6d to 3s 4d; collar, 5s to 8s 6d.

[DURHAM AND IRWIN.]

Wool.—This class of produce continues very dull, and in the absence of any parcels of note it is difficult to form any definite opinion as to the future prospects of this market. Low and seedy wools are much neglected, and buyers will not operate, unless at prices which will preclude the possibility of loss. The decline on fair average parcels, free from seed, may be quoted at 2d per lb. The quantity sold this day consisted of odd lots of low inferior samples, which were taken as follows:—Mixed, HB, 1 bale at 10d; ditto, BH, 1 bale at 12d; fleece, B, 2 bales at 14½d; grease, G, 6d per lb.

Sheepskins were in good supply this week, and met with a ready sale at full rates. About 6000 were catalogued for this day's sale, all of which were quitted as follows:—WG, 2 bales at 4½d; L, 19 bundles at 5½d; J, 1 lot at 6d; OW, 2 bundles at 3½d; HB&Co, 3 bales at 4d; W, 14 at 5½d; JR, 1 at 4d; DGL, 1 at 4½d; B&H, 1 lot at 6½d; W in circle, 8 bales at 6½d per lb.

Tallow.—The market is without alteration since last report; 153 casks were catalogued for our sale this day, of which several lots advised did not arrive in time for sale. The prices obtained are about the same as those of last week's sale, viz.:—G&Co., 1 cask, at 31s 6d; HA, 1 cask, at 31s 3d; JR, 1 ditto, at 33s 6d; L, 1 ditto, at 33s; G&Co. 4 ditto, at 32s 9d; P, 6 ditto, at 35s 3d; E, 2 ditto, at 34s 6d; Heart, 4 ditto, at 34s 9d; W (in circle), 9 ditto, at 34s 9d; L, 2 ditto, at 32s 9d; N, 1 ditto, at 33s 9d; W (in circle), 13 ditto, at 35s; WG, 8 ditto, at 31s 6d; N in triangle, 5 casks, at 31s 4d; Y, 2 ditto, at 33s 9d; NZ, 6 ditto, at 33s 8d; B (Collingwood), 10 ditto, 33s 4½d per cwt.

Hides.—There was a better disposition to purchase this week than was generally anticipated; about 1500 were offered, all of which, with the exception of two lots, were sold. The principal lots worthy of note realised the following prices:—56 at 13s 6d, 281 at 11s 10d, 112 at 12s 3d, 240 at 11s 1d, 98 at 12s 9d, 197 at 12s 1d per hide. Prices throughout ranged thus:—28 at 9s 3d, 34 at 9s 6d, 66 at 8s 9d, 281 at 11s 10d, 112 at 12s 3d, 56 at 13s 6d, 54 at 12s 3d, 10 at 5s, 240 at 13s 1d, 20 at 4s, 35 at 12s 9d, 14 at 3s 9d, 40 at 5s, 7 at 1s 6d, 197 at 12s 1d. Calfskins: 87 at 10d each. Leather—harness: 30 sides at 10½d; kips, 30 sides at 14½d, 20 sides at 17½d per lb. Hair: 1 bale at 5½d, 2 bags at 5½d per lb. STOCK AND STATION CIRCULARS.

[J. BREWSTER.]

STATIONS.—There have been numerous enquiries for good sheep stations in this colony and Queensland, but very few at present offering, owners preferring to hold until after shearing.

Store Cattle.—No improvement to notice, enquiries limited to picked lots from choice herds, for which even nominal prices are only offered.

Store Sheep.—Very little doing in this market at present, holders declining to sell before shearing, unless at extreme prices.

Sydney, 25th July.

[THOMAS DAWSON.]

FAT CATTLE.—The market is improving for fine mobs, which are worth from £4 to £4 10s, second-class £3 to £3 10s.

Fat Sheep.—The market is not well supplied with prime flocks, but there is a superabundance of second and inferior to hand, which tend materially to keep down the price even of the prime, which are worth 16s to 17s. Many of the inferior are being sold for store purposes, and for which there is no lack of buyers.

Store Sheep.—Very few bona fide sales are now being effected; holders not being inclined to sell until after shearing. Prices cannot be quoted with accuracy. Quality, locality, age, condition, sex, &c., rule prices.

Store Cattle.—Some enquiries have been made for desirable mobs in suitable localities. Prices named are from 25s to 30s, subject to approval.

Horses.—Good are in demand, and easy of sale.

Milch Cows.—Prime worth £8 to £10. Inferior plentiful, and difficult to dispose of.

Produce Sale, at the Railway Auction Depot.—Prices yesterday very good, viz.:—Calves, 14s to 45s; lambs, 9s to 22s 6d; pigs, 13s to 49s; roasters, 4s 6d to 8s; pork, in carcase, 4d to 5½d; fowls, 2s 6d to 4s 3d; ducks, 5s; turkeys, 8s 6d to 16s; geese, 7s 7d to 13s per pair; butter, roll, 15d to 2s 4d; keg, 4d to 15½d; lard, 6d to 7d; bacon, 7d per lb.; eggs, 11d to 11½d. Cheese none to hand, but much inquired for.

431, George-street, July 25.

[PITT AND SULLIVAN.]

Stations.—We notice no alteration in the price obtainable, or the demand for station properties.

Fat Cattle.—There is a decided improvement in this market. We quote good cattle worth £4 10s. We sold during the week four hundred and eighteen. 90 of Healey's, at £3 4s 6d; 52 of Sloper Cox's, at £3 9s; 114 of Cornish's, at £3 11s; 162 of Cain's, at £3 7s.

Fat Sheep.—The demand for first-class sheep still continues. Good wethers sell readily at 16s; middling and inferior are not saleable at more than store rates. We sold during the week 1200 of Healey's at 10s 10d.

[R. FORBES.]

Sheep Stations.—I have sales to report arising out of my agency at prices nearer 30s than 20s per head.

Fat Cattle.—This market is only middling. Prime are worth £4, but they must be good to realise this.

Fat Sheep.—Heavy wethers, 54 lbs., will bring 16s to 17s in Sydney this day.

Store Cattle.—Very little doing. I quote equal sexes, ages from two to six, at 27s 6d to 30s.

Store Sheep.—Maidens are worth 16s to 18s if sold alone; breeding, 13s; aged, 9s to 10s; wethers, 10s.

Office, 75, King-street, next English and Scottish Bank.

HORSE MARKET.

BURT AND CO. report a steady demand for all descriptions of horses in good condition and fit for immediate use, but green or unbroken stock are all but unsaleable, from the high price of forage, which prevents the dealers from speculating. Our sales in the Bazaar during the week have comprised several country lots, which have been quited at remunerating rates. We sold yesterday in the cattle market yards, a draft from the stud of the Hon. R. Fitzgerald; they were a medium lot, in low condition, and went from £7 downwards.

Mr. C. MARTYN reports: the horse market has been without much animation this week, such stock as found purchasers being disposed of at prices similar to those which ruled at last week's sales. With the exception of unbroken stock, very few fresh horses were sent to market, and medium and ill-conditioned animals were chiefly the description of stock offered at each day's sale. Present enquiries are chiefly made for strong, upstanding, well seasoned, saddle and harness horses, and occasionally heavy draught stock. Light and inferior horses can be disposed of only at low prices. At the sale of colts yesterday, the property of Mr. Patrick Martin, the prices ranged from about £14 downwards.

DENILIQUIN STOCK MARKET.

Thursday evening, July 17th.

No sales of store stock are reported this week. The following fat stock have crossed the river at this place:—On Saturday, a flock of fat wethers, Taylor and Loughnan's; on Sunday, 13th, 146 head fat cattle, Nicol and Hunt's; and on the same day, 180 head fat bullocks started from the Warbreccan run.—Pastoral Times.

STOCK MARKET.

[DODDS AND CO.]

Fat Cattle.—There has been a falling off in the supply, and we now fairly expect higher prices for any good cattle that reach this market. The trade here are not very well supplied.

Fat Sheep.—Prime wethers are worth from 13s to 14s each, that being their rate at the present time, unless very weighty.

Mixed Cattle are dull of sale.

Working Bullocks are worth from £9 to £11 per pair.

TO THE SECRETARIES OF THE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Per favour of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—When the company of Volunteer Rifles to which I belong were about commencing their course of musketry instruction, the officer, Lieutenant Crawhall, informed us that none of the Rifles would be permitted to compete at Randwick unless they could produce his certificate for having attended the course. Not doubting this, many, at considerable loss of time, &c., attended regularly.

Will you kindly inform the public if this rule is to be carried out at Randwick this season or not.

Yours,

A VOLUNTEER.

JURYMEN.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Will you allow me, through the medium of your widely circulated paper, to complain of the disgraceful manner in which the selections for juries are made in Sydney. On Thursday and Friday last I served on the jury at the District Court, and to-day, just one week after, am summoned again for the Supreme Court. Either a great many people escape being summoned altogether, or the Sheriff goes to L a great deal too often.

Your insertion of this will oblige

Yours respectfully,

DAVID LEVI.

122, Elizabeth-street, Sydney, 24th July.

TO THE PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS OF THE PACIFIC FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY.

(Per favour of the Sydney Morning Herald.)

GENTLEMEN,—Without desiring in any way to remark invidiously upon the somewhat sudden proposal to elect directors for your Company within a week of the allotment of shares, and before the allottees have had the opportunity to consider the terms of the proposed deed of settlement, I beg leave to offer the following suggestions for your consideration.

As there is really, as far as I can understand, no deed of settlement in existence,—that is to say, no deed agreed upon by the allottees, and actually executed by them, it does to my mind seem somewhat arbitrary that a hundred shares should be announced by you as the qualification for a directorship. Many gentlemen well fitted for the office—(and here I would specially guard myself against the slightest reflection upon the provisional directors)—have possibly been allotted shares below the limit of one hundred, and are thus at once disqualified, without any fault of their own, either from coming forward themselves as candidates, or from being nominated by their friends. Under those circumstances, would it not be the fairest way, at the initiation of the company, to dispense with the qualification as to number of shares, and so leave each allottee desirous of becoming a candidate to stand entirely—at this stage of the company's existence—upon his personal merits, commercial position, and degree of fitness for the office?

I think, also, that at the meeting of the allottees, called for Monday, the 28th instant, the election of office-bearers should be by "show of hands," and not "by proxy," or other modes of voting, which at present have not been duly considered by the allottees, and exist only in the embryo deed of settlement. Future elections would, of course, proceed upon a known and recognised basis, but at this point of time, and for the sake of starting the company free from the slightest imputation of "jobbery," I venture to recommend the foregoing propositions as worthy of your attention.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

A SMALL ALLOTTEE.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Seeing in your issue of the 14th instant that Mr. H. A. Thomas does not admit the 1 lb. weight of fleece that I attained in three years, without any renewal of blood, as a fact tending to confirm a theory of breeding, permit me to offer further illustration to my former letter. I believe that I am right when I state that the Australian climate has a peculiar influence over certain qualities that give the fleece increased manufacturing value; this is not the result of breeding but of climate—the wool of imported sheep after a time feeling its influence. I consider our first object should be to study this peculiar influence, and as it is acknowledged to produce a valuable result, it is of the utmost importance to cultivate and establish it.

I am convinced that we can produce wool of equal value to any produced in Germany, but I am equally convinced that we should fail in producing wools identical for manufacturing purposes. A valuable and highly improved breed of sheep has been established in Australia. This stock has peculiar qualities of its own, of great value, and perfectly distinct from any existing stock elsewhere. The introduction of foreign blood should, therefore, be directed to the improvement of any radical defects that still exist, but certainly not to risk the deterioration of the already established character of the fleece. I know that all the valuable characteristics of the Australian fleece can be attained and increased by steady perseverance in the selection of colonial rams, and strict attention to breeding ewes, gradually culling every animal of inferior character. My opinion is, that Germany cannot compete with us in the peculiar "softness" and "silkiness" of the fibre. I maintain that our means of bringing these peculiar qualities to perfection exist within our own already acclimatised stock.

The great object of all breeding is to raise a stock that will produce its like. The moment you introduce foreign blood into the Australian flock, you shake this already acquired foundation—a fact that all those who have introduced Leicester or Teeswater blood at any time into their flock have proved to their cost, the fleece offering a strange and ever changing mixture of quality and character. I consider that any distinct and valuable qualities of fleece, or carcase, in which our flocks may be still found deficient, are the true objects to be gained by the introduction of foreign blood, and then only applied under the care and judgment of sheepfarmers of experience.

I cannot now give Mr. Thomas actual numbers, but simply as an illustration I may state that in obtaining the increased average of 1 lb., I did not reduce the flock. The details of the management I did not find it necessary to interfere with. The deterioration that I found was the result of neglect in sorting the breeding ewes: in fact, for several seasons they had not been sorted at all. It was by constant attention to the sorting of the breeding stock that I obtained the result I did.

In asserting that our acclimatised stock afford sufficient foundation to raise our flocks to the highest state of improvement I am no advocate for breeding in and in. I know an instance where the breeding of rams was confined to a small select flock of ewes. Year after year the same blood went through the general flock. The result was fatal. A fine-woolled but delicate sheep was the result.

Once in possession of an Australian flock of good character, the sheep-breeder should seize and carefully cherish every animal displaying any marked character of fleece or carcase. It is in his power thus to impress any given quality on his own stock by exercising judgment in selection.

When this can be done through a flock of 2000 or 3000 breeding ewes, it must be his own neglect if any evil such as I have noted above should arise.

Upon such a system of breeding being general he need not go far for renewal of blood, but would certainly find what he wanted in the colony.

Your obedient servant,

JAMES MACARTHUR.

Goulburn, 23rd July.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Mr. H. K. James' rejoinder in this morning's Herald imposes on me the necessity of troubling you with another communication on the subject of "the alleged injustice and partiality on the part of the present Bishop of Sydney towards the Rev. George King in pecuniary matters."

I had stated that "on my appointment to St. Andrew's Church, in the year 1849, the late Bishop informed me that as there was no glebe attached to the incumbency, he had appropriated to it £25 a-year out of the Moore estate, in lieu thereof; and he distinctly stated that, as the land in question became more valuable, the allowance should be proportionably increased." To which Mr. James replies, that "on the date referred to the reversion of the incumbency, with its prospective advantages to Mr. King, was not then in view."

If Mr. James will only refer to the Ecclesiastical Register for 1849, in the Bishop's office, a copy of which is now before me, or to the printed annual report of the "Sydney Diocesan Committee" for the year 1849, he will see that he is incorrect in his reply; for he will find there my name registered as "The Minister of St. Andrew's Cathedral Church, Sydney." And if he refer to the Moore fund account, he will find that on the 1st October, 1849, I received the portion thereof, due to me as the incumbent of St. Andrew's, from the 15th July, 1849, from which period the reversion of the incumbency with its prospective advantages was secured to me under the hand and seal of Bishop Broughton.

Nor is this all. Mr. James proceeds to say—"At all events, the late Bishop did not fulfil his own alleged promise, as it was in his power to have done."

Now, no man knows better than Mr. H. K. James that Bishop Broughton never had it in his power to augment the salary in question agreeably to his promise, because Captain Moore's lease, which stood in the way of such augmentation, continued until several years after the late Bishop's death. But Bishop Barker, I am informed, issued a new lease, at a higher rental; but, instead of increasing this portion of my salary, he diverted the whole of it, arbitrarily and unjustly, into another channel, the course of which remains to the Church at large a profound deep.

I remain, Sir, yours truly,

G. KING.

St. Andrew's Parsonage, July 25th.

THE PRISONER DACEY.—We hear that it is probable the man Dacey, who was apprehended by senior-constable Flannigan at Murrumburrah, on suspicion of being one of the two prisoners rescued from Sir Frederick Pottinger, will not turn out to be the person who is wanted. Dacey has stated to the police that he had nothing to do with the escort robbery, but, at the same time, confesses that he is guilty of crimes equally bad. Should the police fail in identifying him as one of the escapees, there are other charges of a grave nature that will be brought against him. Dacey has been under the eye of the police for the last two or three years, during which time he is stated to have supported himself by robbery.—Yass Courier.

THE TELEGRAPH TO TENTERFIELD.—The wire is now stretched nearly as far as the Wyan station, and the clearing is completed to within a short distance of the Richmond range. In a short time, therefore, should the Government decide upon establishing a station at Tabulam, that township will have the benefit of telegraph communication.—Clarence and Richmond Examiner.

IMPORTANT EXTENSIVE SALE
Of Valuable Building Allotments,
CITY OF NEWCASTLE;
And Six Blocks of Land,
TOWN OF CARRINGTON,
PORT STEPHENS.
Known as the property of Mr. Thomas M'Cormack.

ABSOLUTE SALE.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at Rouse's Hotel, Newcastle, on THURSDAY, 7th August, at 11 o'clock,
The following choice and valuable sites in the
CITY OF NEWCASTLE—
8 ALLOTMENTS, on the east side of Darby-street, each having 33 feet frontage by 165 feet depth.
3 ALLOTMENTS, having each 33 feet frontage to Blane-street by 165 feet depth.
4 ALLOTMENTS, having each 33 feet frontage on the north side of Church-street by 165 feet depth.
3 ALLOTMENTS, having each 33 feet frontage on the south side of Church-street by 90 feet depth.
3 ALLOTMENTS, having each 33 feet frontage to the north side of Sydney-street by 90 feet depth.
5 ALLOTMENTS, in M'Cormack-street, leading from Church-street to Sydney-street, each having 30 feet frontage by 99 feet depth.
2 ALLOTMENTS, each having 33 feet frontage to Newcomen-street, at the corner on the Recreation Reserve.
2 ALLOTMENTS, each having 33 feet frontage to Barker-street, at the corner, on the Recreation reserve.
2 ALLOTMENTS, each having 33 feet frontage to Woolfe-street, at the corner on the Recreation Reserve.
7 ALLOTMENTS, each having 32 feet frontage to Ordnance-street, which fronts the Recreation Reserve of 36 acres.
N.B.—These blocks of land, though subdivided as above according to plan, will be offered and sold in lots of any size, to suit purchasers.
☞ The allotments occupy some of the best positions in Newcastle, many of them having frontages to the leading thoroughfares, and in the best business streets in the city, close to the principal public buildings, and therefore admirably adapted for business purposes; while others of them are in elevated and healthy positions, particularly suitable as sites for first-class residences, for which the growing necessities of the city create a great demand.
Newcastle is advantageously situated for great commercial enterprise. Its extensive and beautiful harbour, the inexhaustible extent and richness of its mineral resources, and being the outlet for a large area of agricultural land of unsurpassed fertility, all point out its present and prospective value. A continuation and an extension of its immense shipping trade may be fairly calculated on, as it is the great terminus and shipping port for the several lines of rail which must ultimately traverse the districts to the north and west, including the great trunk line to Armidale, now completed to Singleton. It must be borne in mind that the Government have but little land in Newcastle, and any possessed by the A. A. Company is far from the centre of business.
Labourers, mechanics, miners, and capitalists are earnestly invited to avail themselves of the advantages now offered, and inspect the above sites, which will positively be disposed of on the above date.

TOWN OF CARRINGTON,
PORT STEPHENS.
LOTS 1, 2, 9, and 10 of section D as per plan, fronting Blane and Parry streets, and the reserve for public recreation.

NIMBIA is situated on, and is well watered by, the NEDGERA CREEK, as also by a creek at the back of the run, making the whole of the country available for grazing and fattening stock.
The character of the run is open forest country, richly grassed, and abounding in MYALL and SALT BUSH. Its pasturage is well adapted for sheep, of which it would carry a large number.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 4th August, at 11 o'clock,
That first-class commodious CITY MANSION, CAMPBELL LODGE, WYLDE-STREET, POTTS POINT.

The dining-room is a finely proportioned apartment, panelled in the Tudor style.
The ceilings, cornices, and other mouldings in these rooms are most elaborate, and, together with the whole of the fittings, have been completed with unusual artistic taste and elegance.

They are attractively laid out in parterres, lawn, and shrubberies, intersected with trellised vine avenues, and romantic walks, adorned with fountains and rare exotic plants. A stone verandah 90 feet long by 8 feet wide, with ornamental iron pilasters, runs round the garden front, and five fountains can be seen at play opposite the principal windows, reflected by as many mirrors, forming the most charming arcadian picture imaginable.
The out-buildings comprise a large coach-house 40 x 16, with loft above, stables and loose boxes, harness-room, store, &c., &c.

PERMANENT LEVEL of FORBES-STREET, between William and Liverpool streets.—Notice is hereby given that a plan and section, showing the permanent level of that portion of Forbes-street, between William and Liverpool streets, as proposed to be adopted by the Municipal Council, is now lying at the office of the City Surveyor for the inspection and information of the public; and will so remain for four weeks from this date, so that any objections to the same may be lodged with the undersigned previous to the final adoption of the said level by the Municipal Council.
